Arrest Hundreds In Yugoslavia As Result Of Incident

Believe Life Of Boy-King Is In Danger, Followed As He Takes Auto Ride

(International News Service)

BELGRADE, April 29.—Hundreds of foreigners were arrested today and a strong guard was placed around all strategic buildings following an incident involving Yugoslavia's boy-king Peter which led police to believe his life was in danger.

The youthful monarch was followed by three mysterious automobiles when he drove to his father's tomb at Oplanac, near Belgrade, on Sunday. As the king alighted near the tomb the mysterious cars stopped and several passengers came out. They were arrested immediately.

Police revealed the suspects were "all foreigners," but refused to give their names or nationality.

The arrests signalled a nation-wide roundup of other suspicious persons. During the past 36 hours authorities said "many hundreds" of foreign tourists were arrested and expelled. Most of them were "subjects of a belligerent state," they added.

Cameraman Lives Through Bombing Of Namsos, Norway

(International News Service)

PARIS, April 29.—Gaston Madru, cameraman for News of the Day newsreel, was disclosed today as one of the few living persons to undergo the German bombardment of Namsos, Norway.

Madru came out unscathed although some veterans of the last war who now are in Norway described the Namsos onslaught as worse than anything that occurred in Flanders.

Reports reaching Paris said that Madru's coolness and courage stand out even in a craft where danger and courage are taken for granted. He took up his post in a church tower and ground away while wave after wave of German bombers reduced the town to ashes.

The church itself was finally hit, but the tower remained standing—virtually the only structure in the town to escape intact. Madru made his way to comparative safety during a lull in the bombardment.

Criticism On Norway Campaign Is Mounting

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, April 29.—A wave of criticism regarding the British military campaign in Norway mounted in London today amid reports that members of Parliament will demand a secret session of the House of Commons to permit frank discussion of the Norwegian situation.

Numerous consultations among leading politicians were held over the week-end in preparation for what may prove a rigid examination of the government's military strategy.

It was pointed out that since Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain announced Britain's intention to aid Norway three weeks ago, the government has not given commons any detailed statement regarding the campaign.

Want Facts

Members of Parliament made it clear that they are tired of relying for their war news upon the government's terse communiques and news from neutral sources.

In addition, rumors regarding British reverses have been contributing to the gathering repercussions.

Owing to the increasing pressure, Chamberlain is expected to make

Pro-German Proclamations May Indicate Early Entrance Into War

(International News Service)

ROME, April 29.—New war-like, pro-German proclamations by authoritative Italian spokesmen indicated today that possible Italian entrance into the Europetn conflict is looming closer than ever before.

Latest utterance on the tense subject came from Giovanni Ansaldo, editor of Foreign Minister Count Ciano's newspaper Il Telegrafo. In a broadcast to the Italian armed forces on Sunday, he said:

"It is not possible that a country like Italy can stay for long out of a conflict such as the present one. This was brought out with the great authority recently in extremely important statements by speakers in the chamber of corporations.

"We have only one thing to do. Be prepared for the order which will come...These words 'be prepared' involve Italy's fate and the fate of us all.

"The armed forces of the western powers are in danger of being smashed to smithereens. All our good wishes accompany the German army and together with the Germans we salute the German soldiers who fell on Norwegian soil."

German Supply Ships Are Sunk British Report

(International News Service)

LONDON, April 29.—Three German supply ships have been sunk, the British admiralty announced today.

An admiralty communique stated: "There is not the slightest truth in the German claim to have sunk or severely damaged during the past 48 hours five British cruisers and 13 transports.

"In fact Germany's determined attempt to render the waters off the Norwegian coast untenable have been attended with but slight results.

"His majesty's trawler Hammond was damaged by a bomb and subsequently sank. Mis Majesty's trawler Larwood was set on fire by a bomb. There were no casualties on either ship.

Prisoner Saws Way From Jail

Convicted Liquor Store Robber Makes Escape From Pittsburgh County Jail

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 29.—A convicted liquor store robber facing a 10-to-20 year penitentiary term, sawed his way to freedom from the county jail today.

The prisoner, Thomas Irwin, 31, of Elliott, sawed the bar out of his cell in an upper floor cell block and fled after sawing a lock from the Diamand street gate of the jail, jail officials said. They found a small saw blade by the gate.

William McAdams, 30, a Carrick motorist, saw Irwin on the jail roof as he was driving across the Liberty bridge but "though for a while that he was a workman." When he reached his place of work, however, he told a fellow employe of the incident and "by that time, I thought possibly the man was an escaping prisoner."

French Luxury Liner May Make Dash Out To Sea

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 29—Departure of the French luxury liner Ile De France for war duty was predicted by maritime circles to take place on the high tide shortly after midnight tonight.

The 43,450-ton vessel, loaded with the biggest war cargo to leave the United States, requires only the filling of her fuel-oil tanks before making a dash to some unknown destination from whence it is believed her load of 12,500 tons of copper will be transshipped to either France or England.

It was said the Ile De France may go to Halifax where her copper cargo will be placed aboard other vessels for the trans-Atlantic voyage. Then, it is believed, the luxury liner will speed to an Australian port to join the Cunarders Queen Mary and Mauretania as a troop transport.

STOCKHOLM, April 29.—While several thousand fresh French and British troops landed at Namsos for a new drive against Trondheim, German forces in cetnral Norway succeeded today in crossing the difficult mountain passes between the Oester and Gudbrands valleys in their surge toward the north.

Another and smaller Nazi detachment was nearing Hjerkin, northwest of Dombaas.

BERLIN, April 29—The prediction that the allied army in Norway will be wiped out to a man except at Narvik within ten days, was voiced in authentic German military quarters today coincident with claims of new Nazi victories at sea and on land.

The German pincer in the Gudbrands valley is relentlessly closing in, these quarters declared, and at the expiration of the appointed time "not a single allied soldier will remain alive or footloose in Norway with the exception of Narvik."

Chamberlain In Conference On Norway Status

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, April 29.—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain conferred with opposition leaders today while a wave of criticism over the British military campaign in Norway surged among politicians in London.

There were reports that members of parliament will demand a secret session of the House of Commons to permit open discussion of the Norwegian situation.

In a series of conferences at his 10 Downing street residence, the prime minister talked with Major Clement R. Attlee, Sir Arthur Greenwood and Sir Percy Harris, Laborite leaders, and Lord Crewe, Liberal peer.

Numerous consultations among other leaders took place over the week-end apparently in preparation for a debate on British military strategy.

Chamberlain's visitors were said to have informed him of developments on the Norwegian question in political circles.

Although many parliament members publicly stated they are tired of depending upon terse communiques for their war news, informed quarters said Chamberlain probably would not make a statement in commons tomorrow regarding the campaign.

Owing to the increasing pressure, however, the premier was expected to detail British movements in Norway in a talk later in the week.

Rumors regarding British reverses have been contributing to the gathering controversy.

German Circles Claim Victory Sure In Norway

BRITISH CLAIM TRANSPORTS SUNK

Germans Claim Number Of British Troop Transports Are Bombed

(International News Service)

High German military circles predicted today that the Nazi legions in Norway would annihilate the Allies in Scandinavia to a man within 10 days. But at the same time, the Berlin radio ruefully admitted that the Allies had "considerably" stiffened their resistance.

In London, the mounting flood of bitter criticism of the British campaign in Norway continued to gain impetus but was somewhat allayed by the admiralty's announcement that three more German transports have been torpedoed and sunk.

Berlin reported a large number of British troop transports were bombed by the Nazi air force off the west coast of Norway. The transports were considerably damaged, the official German announcement said, and one of them was set afire.

London reported a fresh onslaught of German air attacks in the Namsos region.

Indicate Fierce Battle

On land, a fierce battle was indicated by terrific firing heard rocketing through the valleys near Hjerkin and Kvikne in Norway. It was in this region that the Nazi northward advance swerved off into two columns and formed a pincers which Berlin claims will shatter allied defenses. Allied aerial activity was reported lending support to the harassed Franco-British troops.

Congressional Battle Develops Over Monetary Powers Of President

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 29.—A bitter congressional battle over President Roosevelt's monetary powers got underway today as legislation to "freeze" Danish and Norwegian assets in the United States was called up for action in the senate.

Assailing the measure as a "power grab," Republicans rallied their forces against it, as administration followers claimed that the only object of the proposal was to prevent German acquisition of the assets of Danish and Norwegian nationals.

Secretary of the treasury Morgenthau, under an executive order the temporary custodian of Danish and Norwegian wealth in this country, revealed last night that the two invaded nations had short term credit balances in the United States totaling about $95,000,000 at the end of January.

Long Term Investments

In addition, Denmark and Norway have long-term investments in the United States aggregating $80,000,000, according to commerce department reckoning.

Republicans charged the monetary resolution, backed by senate banking committee chairman Wag-

To Seek Cure For Unemployment

A. F. Of L. Drafts New Proposal

Political Parties May Be Asked To Incorporate Plan In Platforms

DETAILS WILL BE ANNOUNCED LATER

By JACK VINCENT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The American Federation of Labor's disclosure that it is drafting a definite proposal to cure unemployment gave rise to reports today that the federation may ask national political parties to incorporate the plan in the 1940 platforms.

It was regarded as significant in informed capital labor circles that the plan was being worked out just prior to the national conventions of both Republicans and Democrats.

William Green, A. F. of L. president, gave the first hint that such a plan was in the making in testimony before the monopoly investigating committee last week. Green said that he believed it would put the "majority" of jobless back to work, but declared details could not be announced now.

Wide Speculation

Green's statements led to wide speculation over details of the proposal. Persons close to Green warned against such speculation, pointing out federation research experts are still working on the plan, and that it might be subject to many changes.

However, it was generally believed that the plan would be based upon some proposal for systematic wage increases. This much was known: Green expects the plan, he said, to raise national income $10,000,000,000 annually. Economists expressed the belief that such a large increase necessarily would have to encompass wage boosts.

It could not be learned whether the Green proposal would include incentives to business and industry.

The plan is certain to be discussed at the meeting of the A. F. of L.'s national executive council in Washington May 13. At that time, representatives will be appointed to call upon the convention platform committees of both major parties for support of the federation's "legislative and economic policies".

If the re-employment proposal is approved by the executive council, it automatically will be referred to the GOP and the Democratic platform committees.

The A. F. of L. does not endorse presidential candidates, but in national elections presses "for the adoption by both parties of a constructive and progressive platform". That was the policy adopted by the A. F. of L. conventions and reaffirmed at a meeting of the executive council in Miami, Fla., on Feb. 20.

ish troops concentrated near Berkak, Kvikne and other threatened areas.

The British plan appeared to call for harrying operations in an attempt to break up the German advance parties before they reach Stoeren.

Heavy fighting was under way near Otta. Allied forces there are constantly receiving reinforcements which may enable them to hold their present positions in the Gudbrands valley, but the Germans nevertheless apparently negotiated the treacherous passes.

Norwegian troops attempted to halt the German advance up the Oester valley from Roeros and Nyplaasen and almost succeeded by dynamiting a bridge. Nazi sappers, however, succeeded in effecting temporary repairs, permitting passage of troops and light mechanized vehicles.

German Reinforcements

Arrival of the allied reinforcements at Namsos, however, was matched by the Germans, who poured new troops, planes and war materials into southern Norway, according to advices to Stockhold.

Observers at the southwestern Swedish port of Gothemburg said they saw numerous German troop ships crossing toward Oslo from Denmark, and also that fleets of German warplanes had been sighted flying north.

According to Swedish reports, the allied forces south of Trondheim seemed to be in danger of isolation owing to the sudden German motorized advances. Vanguards of German flanking columns were reported only three miles east of the railway between the main allied positions around Soeren and Dombaas.

The allies were reported still in control of this railroad but latest dispatches stated there was fighting yesterday at Hjerkin, some 18 miles north of Dombaas, between British troops and German forces which advanced across the mountains from the Oesterdal valley.

So far, however, the main German effort to capture Dombaas from the south appears to have been repulsed.

Landing of Anglo-French troops at Namsos was announced by the latest Norwegian communique.

The German advances up the Oesterdal and Gudbrands valleys apparently were halted with heavy losses and the British claimed a strong grip on all rail junctions in central Norway.

Norwegian sources said the allied forces at Hjerkin had strongly fortified their positions and had received reinforcements prior to yesterday's fighting. Further north, however, another German force was threatening the rail town of Ulsberg.

The Bergen-Stavanger region in the southwest Aksi was reported the scene of severe fighting.

Charge Nazi Ship Used American Flag

Norwegians Charge U. S. Flag On Nazi Supply Ship At Narvik, Norway

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Secretary of State Hull indicated today that the United States would investigate charges made in a statement yesterday by C. J. Hambro, president of the Norwegian parliament that a German supply ship went into Narvik just before the Nazi invasion of Norway flying the American flag.

Hambro said in his statement that he had a sworn report from a Norwegian pilot who escorted the German supply ship Jan Wellem into Narvik saying that the vessel not only flew the American flag but also had American insignia painted on its sides to disguise its true nationality. The false use of a flag is a violation of International law.

The secretary, who said he knew nothing of Hambro's statement about the incident until his attention was called to it by newspapermen, asserted that the state department would look into the matter promptly.

He added that he assumed that if the charge were true some report on the incident would be sent to Washington by American diplomatic or consular representatives in Norway. No such report, he said, had been received as yet.

Fear Italy's Intentions

In Paris, new fears of Italy's intentions arose with the report that Adolf Hitler is increasing pressure on his axis partner to enter the war. The report maintained that the mysterious Brenner Pass meeting between Hitler and Italian Premier Benito Mussolini settled once and for all Italy's future course of action. It added that Hitler asked Mussolini to adopt only a menacing attitude at the start of the Norwegian campaign—but to intervene actively after the allies dispatched an expeditionary force to Scandinavia.

New threats of internal unrest came from the Balkans. In Bucharest military and police guards were thrown around all public buildings. In Belgrade, hundreds of foreigners were arrested following an incident involving Yugoslavia's boy-king Peter. The arrests were made after three mysterious automobiles followed the youthful monarch when he drove to his father's tomb near the capital. The United States legation in Bucharest again reminded American citizens of the admonition from the state department in Washington to leave European countries unless they have the most urgent reasons for remaining.

Fr. Schirra also conducted the committal service at the grave in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Deny Capture Of Allied Commanders

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 29.—An Italian radio report that the Norwegian and Allied army commanders-in-chief of Norway operations were captured, was emphatically denied today in a British broadcasting company announcement.

"It is officially stated in London," the statement said, "that there is not the vestige of truth in this assertion, and that Rome has clearly been grossly misled by German propaganda. In fact both general officers have been in communication with London during the course of the day."

The broadcast was received by the Columbia Broadcasting Company.

W. J. MOFFATT IS TAKEN BY DEATH

Lawrence county bar on March 12, 1894, having read law with the firm of Dana & Long. He ran for the office of district attorney in the fall of 1897 and was elected to that office, serving during the years 1898, 1899 and 1900.

School Solicitor For Years

During his lifetime, he had also served as a member of city council and the state legislature. In 1908 he was elected solicitor for the school district of New Castle, continuing in that post until 1938, when ill health forced him to resign. During that time he acquired an exceptional knowledge of school laws, and was known throughout the state as an authority in this matter. He served as a member of the executive committee of the Lawrence county chapter, American Red Cross, for a number of years, and was also active in the affairs of the volunteer fire department of the city, of which he was a member.

He was a member of Mahoning Lodge No. 243, F. & A. M.; the Valley of New Castle Consistory, A. A. S. R.; Delta chapter, Royal Arch Masons, and the Uniformed Rank, Knights of Pythias. He was a member of the First Presbyterian church and had always been faithful in his religious duties while his health permitted it.

The body will arrive in New Castle at 8:37 this evening and will be taken to the Jos. S. Rice Co. chapel, where friends may view the body Tuesday and Wednesday.

Funeral services will take place from the chapel Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in charge of Dr. John J. McIlvaine, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Interment will be in Greenwood cemetery.

CONGRESSIONAL BATTLE OVER MONETARY POWERS

ner (D) N. Y., aimed to hand Mr. Roosevelt "powers never before claimed by or granted to a president, even in time of war." They asserted its enactment would give the president sweeping powers to regulate stock market trading and control all financial operations of private citizens.

Sen. Danaher (R) Conn., sponsored Republican amendments designed to narrow the scope of the securities "freezing" resolution. He admitted that adoption of his measure would not only limit powers sought by the president, but would sharply curtail the executive's existing monetary powers.

Democratic leaders in both senate and house conferred with Mr. Roosevelt this morning, and it was presumed that strategy of the Democratic battle for enactment of the Wagner resolution was worked out at this meeting.

CRITICISM ON NORWAY CAMPAIGN MOUNTING

a statement regarding Norway to the House of Commons tomorrow and to consult Major Clement R. Attlee and Sir Arthur Greenwood, laborite leaders, today.

Defend Chamberlain

Supporters of Chamberlain rushed to his defense with the explanation that his lips have been sealed for strategic reasons and that, as a result of this, the allied effort in Norway has tended to slip out of perspective.

But Chamberlains' first full statement will satisfactorily answer his critics, these circles maintained, and probe that the allied war effort in Norway so far has been the best possible under difficult conditions.

Nevertheless, parliamentary circles keenly anticipate an early showdown in which popular disquiet over the Norwegian situation is expected to be voiced. But few persons believe that a political crisis will result unless the Norwegian campaign turns out to be a first-class debacle for the British.

Springtime is here again. And it will only be a short time until Fall. Time moves fast. It only seems like yesterday since we started to serve the public, and still we have spent forty-two years learning a little more each year, and adding a little more to our service, from time to time. All of which, we think, is a help, when we are called upon to serve the public in our chosen profession.
Our prices are right, and we are always ready to give to the public that forty-two years of experience.

MR. AND MRS. LENGERMAN PLAN BORDEN RECEPTION

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph F. Lengerman, of Highland avenue, who shared largely in the success of the anniversary party held Friday evening in the First Methodist church for the George R. Borden class, will grace the role of honor when they preside as hosts for a special reception and party. It will be given in August for Mr. and Mrs. George R. Borden of Snoqualmie Falls, state of Washington, for whom the Bible class was named, he having been the former teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Borden left New Castle some fifteen years ago, and have made it a point to keep in touch with their host of friends, from time to time.

Mr. and Mrs. Lengerman are already working with their committee, on details for the party, which will be attended by a large number of guests. They, with other members of the First Methodist church were responsible for the fine success of the twenty second anniversary party of the class last week, which was in the form of a 6:30 dinner.

ELSIE MAE MORGAN TO WED HUBERT L. WAGNER

Mr. and Mrs. G. Hubert Morgan of 229 East Leasure avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Elsie Mae, to Hubert L. Wagner, son of Mrs. Anna H. Wagner, of 615 Croton avenue.

The engagement will terminate in a wedding on Monday, May 6.

I. V. D. Class

A social meeting for members of the I. V. D. class of the First Christian church will be held Thursday evening in the church.

MISS METZLER TO WED IN SAN DIEGO, JUNE 8

As a medium of making known the date of June 8, being chosen by Miss Mary Jane Metzler, for her marriage to George Muse, a lovely party was given Saturday evening, in the home of Mrs. James Newton, of Wurtemburg for a circle of the honorees friends, which took the form of a bridge.

The hours were devoted to cards with four tables of players competing for honors. Mrs. Harold Clarkson, Miss Dorothy Young and Miss Agnes Donaldson were the prize winners.

Lunch was served at a later period, and dainty appointments predominated. During the evening, the news was cleverly revealed on miniature cards attached to individual gardenias, which read: "Mary Jane and George—June 8, 1940—San Diego, Calif." Conversation led to the future plans of the bride-elect. In serving a tasty repast, Mrs. Newton was aided by Mrs. Lake S. McNab and Mrs. Charles T. Metzler.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Metzler, of 404 Park avenue and Mr. Muse is the son of Mrs. George Muse, 310 Fairmont avenue.

Guests were present from Grove City, Princeton, Sharon, and Pittsburgh.

Travers-Davis News

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Emerson Davis, nee Virginia Lou Travers, who were married on Friday, April 26, are "at home" to friends at 1244 West State street, the ceremony having taken place at Mercer, Pa.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Rose Travers of State street, and the bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Davis, Scotland Lane.

JANE AGNEW AND RUSSELL CANON WED

Rev. John J. McIlvaine officiated at the marriage ceremony Saturday evening, April 27, at 7:30 in the parsonage of the First Presbyterian church of Miss Jane Agnew, daughter of Mrs. C. C. Witmer of East North street, and Richard Canon, son of Mrs. Anna Canon of Fairmont avenue.

Poudre blue silk jersey, made suit style, with rose accompaniments, and a shoulder corsage of gardenias, completed the bride's attire. Her only attendant, Miss Mabel Smith, wore a navy and white ensemble with a corsage of sweet peas and rose buds.

Lester Coryea served the bridegroom as best man.

Mrs. Canon is a graduate of the local high school and is employed at the Shenango Pottery. The bridegroom is also a graduate of the local high school and is an employee of the Barnes & Snyder motor firm.

The couple left immediately for a wedding trip to Washington, D. C., and through North Carolina. Upon returning, they will take up residence in a newly furnished apartment at 341 Neshannock avenue.

HOME WATCHMEN PLAN FOR PARTY

American Home Watchman, lodge 45, will assemble in the Modern Woodman's hall on East Washington street Tuesday evening and enjoy their 27th anniversary party. A dinner will be served at 6:30, after which an interesting program will feature.

Mrs. Beryl K. Sanborn, of Avis, the Supreme Watchman, will be the guest of honor. Out-of-town guests will attend from Franklin, Oil City, Edinburg and Titusville.

Those composing the committee include: Mrs. Mary Osler, Mrs. Belle Kennedy, Mrs. Ruth Cook, Mrs. C. L. Hoover and Mrs. Margaret Reese.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTAS ENTERTAIN MOTHERS

The Alpha Gamma Delta girls of Westminster College entertained their mothers Saturday, beginning with a luncheon at the Castleton.

Jane McMunn, of Pittsburgh, the new president, welcomed the mothers, and Mrs. R. R. McGeorge, of Highland avenue, brought best wishes to the daughters.

The annual business meeting of sorority mothers took place with the following officers being elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. S. R. Blythe, of Pittsburgh; vice president, Mrs. Frank Mellors of Titusville; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Edgar Thompson, of New Castle.

After dinner the group motored to the college where a sport day was arranged, and tea was served in the McGill Library at 4 o'clock.

In the evening the girls took their mothers to the Little Theatre where they enjoyed a three-act play, "Dear Brutus," produced by the dramatic department of the college.

WILKISON-KNIGHT WEDDING SATURDAY

A pretty wedding was observed Saturday afternoon at 2:30 in the parsonage of the Reformed Presbyterian church at Rose Point when Doris Wilkison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilkison of Rose Point became the bride of Leroy Knight of Highland Heights.

The ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. Alvin Smith, using the single ring service.

The bride was attired in a smart black suit with white accessories, and wore a shoulder corsage of gardenias.

Elverda Knight of Rose Point, as maid of honor, wore royal blue with a shoulder corsage of pink rose buds.

Lester Black of New Castle served the groom as best man.

A wedding supper was served to twenty-five guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Currie of Castlewood, sister and brother-in-law of the groom.

The bride is a graduate of Princeton High School and of the Griffith School of Beauty Culture of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Knight is employed by the McCormick Trucking Company of New Castle.

After a short wedding trip to Washington, D. C., the couple will reside in Rose Point.

Locke- McKinnis Marriage

Miss Margaret L. Locke and Lester A. McKinnis, both of Slippery Rock, were married in the parsonage of the Clifton Flat Mission, with the pastor, the Rev. S. C. Baker, Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, officiating.

The single ring service was used, and the couple had as their only attendants, Mr. and Mrs. C. Zainer of New Castle.

For her marriage, the bride wore a blue creme street length dress, and Mrs. Zainer also wore a blue crepe ensemble.

Mr. and Mrs. McKinnis have taken up residence at Slippery Rock, where the bridegroom is employed.

Honored On Birthday

At the invitation of her aunt, Mrs. G. C. McCart, on Chestnut street, Miss Mary Jane Wright was pleasantly surprised Friday evening when a group of her friends gathered to help celebrate her birthday anniversary.

The hours were spent informally, contests claiming attention, with Dean Gibson and Betty Henry capturing the prizes. Lunch was a later pleasure, the hostess being aided by Mrs. Sara Wright, mother of the honoree and Ruth Porterfield.

Many lovely gifts were received by Mary Jane as additional mementos.

Marsing Club

Members of the Marsing club will meet for their regular session Wednesday evening at a suburban tea room for a 6:30 dinner. Following, members will gather at the home of Mrs. Ernest Anderson on Temple avenue where they will spend the remainder of the evening with cards.

(Additional Society On Page Six)

Silent Sisters Club

Members of the Silent Sisters club met recently in the home of Marie Damiano, 720 Neal street, when officers were elected.

They are: President, Elizabeth Ross; vice president, Marie Damiano; secretary, Pauline DeFiore; treasurer, Teresa Alfera.

A period of cards and games was enjoyed, and following, the hostess served lunch, assisted by Madeline Lombardo and Mae DeLorenzo. Special guests were Sylvia Lombardo and Lucille Guinaugh.

The next meeting will be at the home of Teresa Alfera, Pearson street, on May 3.

MIGRANT FAMILIES IN AMERICA

ACTION by the House of Representatives to make a special survey of interstate migration is accompanied by the estimate that 350,000 American families are constantly moving about without established residence and that twenty-four separate Federal agencies are attempting to keep these families from becoming too deeply distressed.

The chances are, however, that Congress already knows enough about it to act in the alleviation of the problem if any reasonable action were at hand. Part of the problem is the share-cropper driven out by landlord retrenchment. Part of it is desertion of the land through drought and wind erosion. But most of all is the growth of unemployment through technological improvements in industry which constantly are increasing production at the expense of human hands.

One statistician recently estimated that 98 per cent of the work in America is done mechanically and two per cent by the exertion of human effort. The estimate may be far-fetched, but it is known at least that there is not enough work to go around. And the arrival of a thousand refugees every week from Europe is constantly adding to the magnitude of the problem.

TRADE IN THE FAMILY

Among the best customers of the United States are our territorial and island possessions. Last year Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands bought $235,000,000 worth of goods from the continental U. S. A. They bought three times as much from us as did all the Central American countries together, and 73 per cent as much as all of South America, although the latter region has 89,000,000 inhabitants and our possessions only 2,500,000.

What did Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands buy of us? Just about everything from automobiles to chewing gum. The complete list would show the most diversified assortment of products which this country shipped to any customer in the world.

If trade with European and Asiatic countries becomes increasingly restricted because of war, or their own dwindling power to buy, we will grow more appreciative of the peaceful regions with which we can still trade, our own possessions and territories and the other countries of this hemisphere.

GOLD STILL IN DEMAND

No one knows about money for sure, but Dr. Sprague of Harvard is probably as well qualified as anybody to express an opinion. Sprague was once economic adviser to the Bank of England and later was in the Roosevelt counsels but soon discharged himself from the New Deal because he could not go along with its theories.

Sprague believes that gold will not lose its international monetary value, even though most countries have broken loose from gold as a metallic base, because gold is the one thing people everywhere are willing to accept in payment of debts. They regard it as the ultimate store of wealth and therefore it is acceptable across any international boundary. In any country gold can still be converted into money or bank credit or can buy any goods or services. The nations having the least of it are the most feverish to acquire it.

So much for America's good fortune in possessing more than 60 per cent of the world's supply. How America will ultimately get its excess gold to the nations that need it for buying power in a restoration of foreign trade, Sprague does not know. But he is certain that this country will never be left nigh and dry because the rest of the world does not want gold.

STATE TRADE BARRIERS MUST COME DOWN

The hearings before the anti-monopoly committee on the trade and travel barriers set up by so many of the states have been shedding fresh light on this serious evil.

Because travel to Europe has been shut off by the war, the familiar slogan, "See America First," should have special significance this coming summer.

The greatest multitude of motorists on record are planning to take to the roads. The national parks and the summer resorts are expecting the largest number of visitors in their history.

Many of these tourists, wandering far from home for the first time, are going to be surprised when they run against those guarded state frontiers with their ports of entry and custom houses.

According to testimony before the O'Mahoney committee there are states which require what amount to "tourist permits" from residents of other states. The cost of bringing in "trailers" is prohibitive.

Discriminations with regard to licenses for fishing and hunting in many cases make visitors from other states feel like foreigners. South Carolina charges its own citizens $60 for the privilege of catching sturgeon. But an outsider must pay $500. He cannot obtain a permit to catch shadfish at any price.

It is said that it's much easier for American citizens to travel in Canada, even in wartime, than in many sections of their own country, because of arbitrary restrictions here.

How can these barriers to trade and travel be broken down if the states refuse to do it themselves? A witness before the anti-monopoly committee suggests that federal grants for highways, public health and other purposes can be withdrawn.

This drastic course should not be necessary. It is the duty of the states to enact reciprocal agreements and tear down the walls they have erected in defiance of the spirit of the Constitution. Then the term United States will be restored to the meaning intended by the founders of the Republic.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

If Mussolini can just stay non-belligerent long enough, he may conclude that he isn't really mad at anybody.

Some 15,000,000 persons still are uncounted in the census. Why not just lump 'em all under the head of miscellaneous?

Congressmen who are candidates for reelection seem to have concluded that the line of least resistance is the spending line.

Business is said to be better because customers are figuring on restaurant tablecloths again. At least it should help the laundries.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

HELPING CHILD'S VOCABULARY

A good vocabularly and success are often twins. A good vocabulary and a likable personality are also. Recent studies have indicated that, all else being equal, a person with a large vocabulary will get along better at school and college and will have better success in life than the person with a small vocabulary. There are plenty of exceptions, of course.

This seems to mean that we parents can contribute to the success of our growing child in his life work, to some degree at least, as we contribute to the growth of his vocabulary. Even the person who labors with his hands may climb with the aid of an enlarged vocabulary. As a rule, the person who can say what he wants to say and make others easily understand what he means, has a better chance to land a job, hold it or win promotion than the one who can't.

Has Advantage

In high school, even the elementary grades, the child who can select the best words to say what he wants to say, has the advantage over his classmate who may be as bright or brighter but more limited in vocabulary. In addition to getting better grades for his efforts, the child with the better vocabulary can think more clearly, can feel more comfortable as he speaks and be more likable.

The growing child gains vocabulary by mingling with others with a good vocabularly. Much of his vocabulary he acquires from his parents. Yet, theirs, though they be well educated, may be rather limited.

The child gains rapidly from reading and being read to. I can imagine no better way to cultivate the growing child's vocabulary than by reading to him from early babyhood to long past his age of entering school.

Read to from early babyhood, the child will be hearing stories and books of fifth or sixth grade level by the time he enters school. After he begins reading he will enjoy hearing from books with a vocabulary far harder than in those he can read alone.

Reading Aloud

Often in this column I have urged the youth to read aloud to improve his speech. Reading aloud to himself or to others will enrich his style and speaking vocabulary more, no doubt, than will silent reading. Yet, silent reading does broaden the vocabulary tremendously. It's the youth or adult who reads much from good books whose vocabulary is wide.

Let no reader suppose he should go around using long words. If he is wise, he will not use a long one where a short one will do as well. He needs a wide range from which to choose, so he may employ the best word to say just what he wishes to say, and make understand just what he wishes to have understood.

WE WHO HAVE AT TABLE SAT

We who have at table sat
Long shall treasure this and that;
Long shall cherish faith and jest
Simply, happily expressed.

What will matter what we were,
Man at hire or officer?
Who was at the table's head?
We have shared the self-same bread.

This we shall remember long,
We have shared the self-same song.
This in memory shall remain
Though we never meet again.

Friends we are and friends shall be
To the end of memory.
Roof and table give us that,
We who have at supper sat.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 6:53. Sun rises tomorrow 5:01.

Abe Pickus, Cleveland's self-appointed ambassador of good will, has spent around $50,000 talking to European rulers in the last ten years. Maybe that's what's the matter with conditions over there. Abe only gets the dictators stirred up anew.

CONVINCING

A judge tells about the lawyer who was gifted with an orator's tongue.

"After hearing a case once, I was pretty sure the defendant had stolen the car," relates the judge. "But after listening to the lawyer I was almost convinced the plaintiff never even had a machine."

The British, in clamping down on the strip tease, show that they are in dead earnest about keeping important new developments clothed in the utmost secrecy.

Proprietor of Laundry: "The undershirts with the buttons missing belong to bachelors."

Assistant: "How about the ones belonging to the married men?"

Proprietor: "Married men have no undershirts."

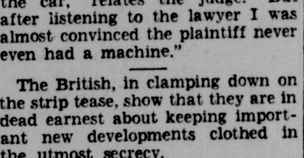
While the automobile fatalities in Lawrence county are far less than they were during the corresponding period last year, Youngstown reveals it has had 14 fatal accidents, six more than a year ago, while Mahoning county has had 20, nine more than last year. Ohio also has a maximum speed law, but they don't seem to do much about enforcing it. There's the difference.

"Do you have many Scotchmen here in Australia?" inquired the curious visitor.

"A good many," answered the Australian, "but our worst pest is the rabbits."

Over in this country, the word scuttle generally refers to a coal hod, while in Europe, it means the sinking of another German ship, by the Germans themselves.

Women buy three out of every four men's ties that are sold, according to statistics. On the other hand, most men we know will not wear more than one out of every four ties their women folks buy for them, so this just evens things up, and the necktie manufacturers go merrily onward.



Working for the public is a miserable job. If you act rich, people distrust you; if you tell the truth, the women of your family get mad at you.

Jimmy: "Papa, this book says that people brag about their ancestors. What are ancestors?"

Papa: "I am one of your ancestors and grandpa is another."

Jimmy: "Why do folks brag about 'em?"

BACK TO EARTH

The aviation instructor, having delivered a lecture on parachute work, concluded:

"And if it doesn't open—well, gentlemen, that's what is known as jumping to a conclusion."

According to statistics issued by the federal government, Washington, D. C., has more persons per capita confined to mental institutions than anyother city in the United States. This doesn't include a lot down there who ought to be in some kind of an institution, but aren't.

DINNER DRESSING

The missionary had landed on the cannibal island and received a tumultous welcome.

"Ah," he smiled to himself, "This is indeed a fertile field. I shall be able to convert all these people, I am sure."

He was escorted to the finest hut in the village and later a big savage came in.

"I am here from the king, who says I should dress you for dinner," said the savage.

"This is wonderful, enthused the missionary. "How very thoughtful of the king to give me this attention. I suppose you are the royal valet?"

"No, I'm the royal cook."

The generous rich are queer. They will give a poor man $5, but howl when one asks half as much for a hard day's work.

Good Taste

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

By FRANCINE MARKEL

My handsome friend, Gerald, is generally right—too confoundedly right—in what he says, but he constantly loses friends by being too emphatic in expressing his opinions. We like to be kept on the right side of traffic but we would resent being challenged or pushed back into place by an army tank. When Gerald offers his opinions, he thrusts them on you with a giant's shove, and as the wise saw puts it: "'Tis well to have a giant's strength, but not to use it as a giant."

Just as "the soft answer turneth away wrath" the opinion softly delivered garnereth respect and new friends. Too many of us would rather be right and offensively trumpet the fact than become popular by resisting the temptation to be too assertive and contradictory.

Readers' Questions Answered

Dear Miss Markel: To whom besides her maid-of-honor and bridesmaids must a bride give presents? —Bride.

Answer: To her future husband, of course, she gives a wedding present. If she has flower girls and a page, she must give them something too. If the organist and the singer are friends, gifts should be given to them instead of fees. The groom takes care of the male attendants.

Dear Miss Markel: I am soon to receive an engagement ring. My parents are going to give me an announcement party. Just when should this take place?—E. G. T.

Answer: The party may take place as soon as you have received your ring. And the engagement ring should not be worn publicly until the announcement has been made.

Miss Markel will promptly mail personal answers to questions from any reader enclosing self-addressed three-cent stamped envelope.

Tomorrow—Victims of Their Own Gossip.

A local school teacher was displaying a letter she received the other day from an irate mother. It read:

"Dere Teacher: You keep telling my boy to brethe with his diafram. Maybe some of the rich children can afford diaframs, but how about when their father only makes $2 a day, and he has got five children to keep? First its one thing and then its another thing, and now its diaframs. That's the worst thing yet."

Colored Stranger (poking head from car window): "Does a colored man by de name of Sam Smith live here?"

Native: "No."

Stranger: "Don't know annybudy by dat name?"

Native: "No."

Stranger (grabbing valise): "Well, here's whar I gits off. I'm his son-in-law."

A Pittsburgh fire captain, arrested on a charge of drinking while on duty, was fined $50 and suspended for five months. He claimed he "felt a chill coming on," and took a snifter. Counting what he will lose in wages in five months, that would be around a $700 drink. Yet some people probably would think a snifter worth that much if they didn't have it.

LONELY

An Englishman and an Irishman were riding along in silent meditation when they passed an old jail yard with a dilapidated gallows at the side. The sight roused the Englishman.

"Where would you be, Mike, if that gallows had its due?" he asked.

The Irishman thought a moment, then said:

"Riding alone, I guess."

No man has reached the deadline until he says "I have finished my education." Some men reach it at 20, some at 60, and some never reach it. It is easy to tell. A man has reached the deadline when he has gotten too old to learn.

STICKY SUBJECT

Smith — There are two sides to every question.

Brown—Yes, and there are two sides to a sheet of flypaper, but it makes a big difference to the fly which side he chooses.

Groton, Conn., has a weather prophet, who claims to be able to predict what the seasons are going to be like by sniffing the wind. He predicts that the coming summer will be "a nice one, with more or less fog and some rain." Most any kind of a summer will be a nice one, if it only gets here.

KEEP AT IT

Some men keep going because they still expect to win. And some keep going because they really love the game. Perhaps it doesn't matter—if you just keep going.

We are still too righteous to equip a warring nation, unless we are sure the other side can't hurt us.

It is true that women can suffer more without showing it. What man can smile loyally the 42nd time he hears a story?

NAILED

At the asylum an inmate was watching another try to drive a nail in a wall. The nail-driver was having difficulty, as he had placed the head of the nail against the wall and was pounding the point.

"Bum nail," said the pounder. "They put the point on the wrong end."

"It's you that's crazy," laughed the other fellow. "That nail goes in the opposite wall."

Lack Of Facts Hampers Experts On War
United States Has Little Information
Reports So Conflicting Outcome Puzzle

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, April 29.—To do much very reliable analyzing a war expert needs some dependable information to base his reasoning on. That's what our American army and navy wizards are extremely lacking in, relative to the Baltic-Scandinavian situation. Reports from German sources, on the one hand, and from Allied sources on the opposite hand, are so conflicting that no Yankee guesser can guess with better than the merest modicum of probability. The expert's job is to be an expert, however, and ours are hard at it. Generally they admit that they haven't more than the haziest idea what they're talking about. A few profess to be fairly confident, but even their "ifs" and "buts" profusely decorate their summations.

The last World War's early progress was comparatively obvious. The Germans told of the progress they were making and the Allies had to recognize it.

Too Much Lying

This war was a stalemate until the Germans invaded Norway. Since then there's been such a deal of lying, on one side or the other, or both, that no report means anything in particular. In short, our experts haven't had any sure-enough facts to draw conclusions from.

On an overage our army and navy folk surmise that Herr Hitler is out on a limb in Norway. This, though, is on the supposition (as the Allies assert) he lost one-third of Germany's navy in effecting his Norwegian landing.

If he did (and "if" again) the experts don't believe he can keep his expeditionary army reinforced or supply it. If he can't do that, the experts' opinion is that his northern expeditionaries will be chewed up piecemeal, between outright fighting and lack of ammunition.

Hitler's Problem

The distance from northern Denmark to southern Norway isn't great, but it's too far to swim. Troops, guns and explosives have got to be ferried across somehow. And the Allies' war craft, by concentrating on that particular strip of water, perhaps can make this an extremely precarious business, if not an impossibility.

One surmise is that Herr Hitler believes he can do his ferrying by airplane. Many aviators think so, too.

Surface land and sea critics think otherwise. They say that flying men are over-enthusiastic as to the airplane's possibilities as a troop and ammunition transport. They speak of it as a "valuable arm" of both their services, but contend that it can't transport troops in any appreciable numbers or seriously bother up-to-date fighting vessels. And certainly, insist the surface experts, planes can't deliver supplies in any such quantity as a good-sized army requires.

There's no conclusive answer yet.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

MILITARY TRAINING

The citizens of Great Britain and of the United States have been steadfastly opposed to compulsory military training. These two nations are the richest nations in the world. They offer a rich prize to any military genius who can subject them or either of them to his rule and let no citizen of this nation deceive himself or herself concerning the truth of this statement. We of the United States are not immune from the designs of Hitler or Stalin and I will say nothing about Mussolini. Mussolini seems to be in a class by himself. His actions are those of one who does not care to risk the welfare of his nation at this time.

The Pacifists have always opposed the proposition of universal military training on the ground that it only leads those at the head of the nation, the head of the army and the navy to precipitate the nation into war. Perhaps this is true. It should not be true.

This summer the citizens military training camps of the country will again open their annual schedules. In these camps about thirty thousand young men between the ages of seventeen and nineteen are annually taught to get along with one another in a spirit of team work, which, whether or not the nation is dragged into war, will be carried by them into everyday life and can mean only one thing—the development of character and the strengthening of a purpose to give and to take. All of this is augmented in the camps by an educational program which emphasizes intelligent participation in government, the value of the vote, the necessity of being constantly aware of civic conditions and the high value every American should place upon his individual rights of citizenship, and every bit of this is presented during the period of life when it can be best assimilated.

If such camps were maintained throughout the year in this nation—such camps as were inaugurated during the last great War and every young man compelled to spend at least two years in such camps, we should have better citizens. We would be enormously better prepared for any war eventuality. The rich young man and the poor young man would meet each other and know each other and realize the conditions under which each live, and that give-and-take spirit would be vastly improved.

And we would have no further reason for the spending of Relief money.

The Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT

by The Baltimore Sun (Copyright, 1940)

Political Tides

WASHINGTON, April 29. UNFLATTERING as it may be to the great bulk of American voters, experienced political observers know that national elections in this country are more generally determined by tides of public sentiment than by particular issues, appealing personalities or local considerations. If the tide is running in one direction, neither the charm of the candidates nor the soundness of argument avail against it.

THIS has been proven so often that among the more acute politicians it is considered almost axiomatic. It is the reason the votes in the primary elections in various parts of the country which began in March and will continue until the end of May are so closely examined, analyzed and interpreted for signs of the tide. The most recent of these was the Pennsylvania primary last Tuesday. Figures there were strongly confirmatory of those held in New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Illinois and Nebraska.

BEYOND question, they are most comforting to the Republicans than to the Democrats. Publicly, of course spokesmen for the latter deny this, but privately they admit it. Actually, the figures leave little room for argument. If they mean anything they mean that the tire that so unmistakably turned in 1938 is still running in the same direction. If it were not it would be very surprising. Political history shows that national tides of sentiment do not change quickly, but gradually. They start slowly in one direction, increase in speed and volume over a period of years, diminish gradually, and finally turn in the other direction, only to repeat the performance.

WHEN these tides unmistakably turn in one election, after a period of running in one direction, there is no record of their switching back in the next election. The rule is that they run until they wear themselves out. The Democratic tide which swept Mr. Roosevelt into power really began in 1930—not 1932—when the Democrats gained control of the House, while Mr. Hoover was still President. It steadily increased in strength in 1932, 1934 and 1936, but unmistakably turned in 1938, when the Republicans nearly doubled their membership in the House, recaptured the Governorships of eleven big States and about 3,000 courthouses.

THE primaries and by-elections of 1940 have been the only means since of ascertaining whether the tide was still running. Without rehashing the figures, the facts are that in all these States where elections have occurred—New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Ohio, Illinois, Nebraska and Pennsylvania—the Republican vote has shown a great increase compared to 1936—and a moderate increase over 1938. On the other hand, the Democratic vote has been diminished and in every straight-out test between Republican and Democrat, such, for example, in the Nebraska by-election two weeks ago, the Republican has won. In none of the five or six elections to fill House vacancies has a Democrat captured a Republican seat or shown an increased vote.

IN the Illinois primaries, Mr. Roosevelt ran some 300,000 votes behind his 1936 total, when he was unopposed, and in Nebraska he ran behind the Senatorial candidates. Comment upon that has been generally made, but the Pennsylvania returns are even more striking. In that State the Republicans in about 7,000 or 8,000 precincts, polled a total vote in the Senatorial primaries of 910,000, while the Democrats in the same precincts polled 730,000, or approximately 180,000 less. Mr. Roosevelt, with his name on the ballot, no opposition and indorsed for a third term by all three of the Democratic Senatorial aspirants, polled 417,000 votes, or 313,000 fewer than the Democratic Senatorial total.

IT will be agreed that on the face of these returns the Republican belief that Pennsylvania is all set to return to its Republican moorings next November seems fully justified. And, when the Pennsylvania figures are considered on top of the Illinois, New Hampshire, Wisconsin and Nebraska figures, there seems sound

State Federation Of Labor Convenes

Sessions To Open At Pittsburgh On Tuesday—Green To Make Address

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 29.—Preliminary roundtable sessions today occupied the attention of 1,100 delegates to the Pennsylvania State Federation of Labor's annual convention, which opens tomorrow with an address by William Green, AFL president.

National Labor Relations Board reform and state legislation are expected to be two of a dozen subjects that will high-light the annual conclave.

The NLRB issue came to the fore yesterday when Frank P. Fenton, AFL-International Director of Organization, charged that the board was unfair to the AF of L. He made his appearance a few minuets after Charles T. Douds, regional NLRB director, had addressed the gathering and had asked the delegates to oppose amendments to the act, including those proposed by the AF of L.

Fenton scored board rulings which he claimed permitted the CIO industrial unions to remove AFL craft recognition. Promising opposition to any proposals that would remove the fundamentals of the Wagner Act, Fenton also warned that the AF of L would fight for enactment of changes it felt was necessary to protect craft autonomy.

Changes in Pennsylvania's unemployment compension law also were advocated at yesterday's preliminary meeting. It was indicated that the convention would support action requesting the present three-week waiting period be reduced to one week.

Candy Machine Is Not Gambling, Ruling Of Court

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 29.—The state superior court today upheld the Dauphin county court in its opinion that a nickel vending machine that gives candy mints and humorous sayings is not a gambling device.

The appellate court decision, handed down in the form of a one-page memorandum, affirmed the Dauphin ruling that machines owned by Paul Kling, of Union Deposit, were not gambling instruments even though they operate as "pull-the-lever" slot machines.

The superior court had indicated during argument on the case here several weeks ago that it did not take the commonwealth's contention seriously.

Counsel for the commonwealth was told in so many words that the court felt investigators' time might be spent more profitably in running down major gambling violations and hinted that the Kling case never should have been appealed.

Winner Of State School Contests Is Not Certain

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 29.—The state championship of the 13th annual Pennsylvania Forensic and Music league remained in doubt today pending announcement of the winner by C. Stanton Belfour, Pittsburgh, executive secretary.

John Harris high school, Harrisburg, co-host to the league, apparently was the winner on the basis of four first places, four seconds, four thirds and tie.

However, it was believed John Harris may be excluded from title consideration because it was one of two hosts—William Penn high school, Harrisburg, being the other.

School authorities said they knew of no ruling which would bar John Harris from the championship, but agreed the school had been admitted to the contests without qualifying as a district winner.

What's What At A Glance

The question hasn't been tested out long enough.

If Adolf Loses?

Suppose Adolf's Norwegian campaign does fizzle out—how bad a defeat will it be for him?

The experts concur that it will be a crushing blow. They point out that Hitler will have sacrificed all the men he sent to the northward and that his navy, if not altogether destroyed, at least will be badly depleted. But more than all that, argue the critics, his prestige at home will be so damaged that it may well cost him his fuehrership. Oh, it's true he'll try to hush failure up, and may manage to do it for awhile, through his censorship, but most of the experts say the news will be sure to leak out ultimately.

But won't the Fuehrer be able to offset a disaster in Norway by some brilliant stroke into the Balkans, where he'll need no shipping?

And, maybe, might not Russia give him some real help?—Also Italy?

The experts generally predict that, if he comes a cropper in Norway, Hitler won't last long enough to start anything in the Balkans, and that Joe Stalin and Benito Mussolini, if they see luck turning against him, will drop him like a hot potato.

However, the "ifs," "buts" and "ands" are too plentiful to make all this guessing very clarifying.

The Great Game Of Politics

ground for believing not only that conservative trend of 1938 continues, but that Mr. Roosevelt's amazing vote-getting ability is not what it was. In other words, it was the tide rather than the man or the issues that accounted for the extraordinary sweep of 1932, 1934 and 1936.

IN 1930 it turned against the Republicans, who had been in power twelve years. They were blamed for the depression and there was a vast accumulated resentment against the party. Undoubtedly, Mr Roosevelt's personality and popularity greatly swelled the Democratic majorities and made the Democratic triumps of the past eight years overwhelming and spectacular. But certainly any Democrat could have won in 1932 and there is reason to believe that Democratic dominance would have continued for those eight years under other leadership. Now, if there is any significance in these primary returns, the country faces the other way.

Schwab To Rest Besides Parents At Loretto, Pa.

(International News Service)

LORETTO, Pa., April 29.—The body of Charles M. Schwab, multi-millionaire steel man, will be laid as he requested with those of his parents tomorrow in the family vault at Loretto.

The organizer and late chairman of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation died seven months ago. Today his body was being moved from Gate of Heaven cemetery, Pleasantville, Westchester county, N. Y. It will be taken first to St. Michael Catholic church in Loretto for requiem mass tomorrow morning.

The Schwab family vault is in the cemetery of St. Michael's. There lie Schwab's parents, John and Pauline Farabaugh Schwab. St. Michael's was built by Schwab.

Two of Schwab's sisters live in Loretto. They are Mrs. David Barry and Sister Mary Cecilia of the Blessed Sacrament, to whom Schwab gave the Carmelite monastery—the Carmel of St. Therese of Lisieux.

Meadville Woman Seriously Burned

MEADVILLE, Pa., April 29.—Mrs Wesley B. Best, 75, prominent local woman, today remained in a critical condition at Meadville City Hospital with burns, sustained Friday, when flames from a kitchen stove ignited her clothing.

It was not until three hours after the mishap that a caller discovered the aged woman's plight and summoned an ambulance. The victim is the widow of Captain Wesley B. Best, prominent attorney and political leader, who died in November, 1937.

Mrs. Best told hospital attendants that flames from a kitchen gas range burst out and ignited her clothing as she was preparing breakfast. The aged woman, suffering severely from shock and pain, was unable to relate more of the accident.

ST. VITUS CHURCH SCENE OF WEDDING

Impressive and quiet was the wedding ceremony performed in St. Vitus church Saturday morning at 9 o'clock uniting in marriage Victoria Lomdardo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patsy Lombardo of 1102 DuShane street, and Joseph Lamorella, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Lamorella, of Friendship street.

Before a beautifully embanked altar of ferns and flowers, vows were exchanged in the presence of friends and relatives. The Rev. Fr. Joseph L. Abbate officiated, using the single ring service.

Given away in marriage by her father, Patsy Lombardo, the bride was lovely in a white satin gown, princess style, with full skirt entrain. Her veil was caught in a cap effect, with braided crown, and she carried an arm bouquet of calla and valley lilies.

Miss Angeline Lombardo, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, was attired in a blue taffeta gown, with white accessories. She carried a bouquet of roses. Charles Lombardo served the groom as best man.

Bridesmaids Carmeletta DeLuca, Florence Greco, Clara Lamorella and Frances Angelo all wore pink taffeta gowns, with blue accessories and carried pink tearoses. Ushering were Joseph Priesti, Domenick Sansotti, Henry Meroco and James Pascarella. Little Marie Lombardo, niece of the bride, was the ring girl, and work pink taffeta gown and small bonnet.

Supplementing the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served to members of the immediate families in the Unione Calabro hall and in the evening a reception was held for friends of the young couple. Rev. Fr. Abbate was a special guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Lamorella departed later on a wedding trip to Washington, D. C. For traveling the bride selected a black and white ensemble with a shoulder corsage of gardenias. Upon their return they will reside at 516 Friendship street.

Mr. Lamorella is employed at the Elliott Brothers Steel company. Guests attended from Buffalo, N. Y., Marion, O., Sewickley and Ellwood City.

APRIL SHOWERS DANCE AT HOTEL

To strains of the latest popular tunes, associates of the Bessemer High school, class of '38 enjoyed a prettily arranged "April Showers" reunion-dance Saturday evening in The Castleton hotel.

Dancing, renewing acquaintances and a buffet style luncheon whiled away the hours pleasantly. Hosts were Edward Kersel, Lewis Mandich, David DiLullo and Miss Irma Pelto, the latter of Warren, O.

Class members attending from a distance were from Slippery Rock, Warren, O., and Youngstown, O.

Barbour-Siggelow

Miss Evelyn Barbour and Herman Siggelow, were united in marriage in the parsonage of the First United Presbyterian church on Saturday, April 20. Rev. S. E. Irvine, officiated.

Miss Barbour is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Barbour of Clymer, Pa., and Mr. Siggelow is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Siggelow, Sr., of Riverview avenue.

They were attended by William Siggelow. At the present time, Mr and Mrs. Siggelow are residing on Riverview avenue. Mr. Siggelow is employed at Butler.

W. B. A. Review 98

Women's Benefit Association, Review 98, will meet Wednesday evening in the Malta hall on East Washington street, at 8:00 for a social time which will be for members only. The committee includes Jessie Harper, Mrs. Rachel Reynolds, Mrs. Martha Moncrief and Mrs. Sarah Campbell.

BUCHNER-DUNLAP ENGAGEMENT TOLD

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Buchner, 1610 Albert street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sophia Caroline Buchner, to Forrest Bruce Dunlap, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen C. Dunlap, 1408 Bryson street, Youngstown.

The couple will be married June 1.

Savoia Auxiliary

Casa Savoia Auxiliary members gathered Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, in the Savoia hall, South Mill street, with the president, Mrs. Concetta Leonardo, in charge.

Plans were made for Mother's Day program, to be held on May 12. The social committee is in charge of the event.

New members were welcomed, and after the business meeting, a social hour ensued, for members and friends.

The next meeting will be on Sunday, May 26, at the hall.

STAG TONIGHT AT FIELD CLUB HOUSE

This evening, members of the New Castle Field Club will gather for another of their series of stag parties, with S. H. Rhodes, host in charge.

The usual informal program will be carried out with cards, a smoker and other diversions, beginning at 8:30 o'clock.

1934 Club Postponed

The meeting planned for the 1934 club on Wednesday of this week with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Flinner on Hillcrest avenue, has been postponed for two weeks, when a special party will be featured, the hosts to be announced.

Dedication Of Armory To Honor Memory Of Founder Of Local Troop

When the Joseph V. Cunningham Armory in Cascade Park is dedicated on May 9, the impelling reason back of the Armory will not be present but his spirit will be there as it has been since he organized the troop in 1904. For Captain Joseph V. Cunningham has long since joined the Valhalla of Fighting Men.

Captain Cunningham went out in the Spanish-American War. Following the war there was a movement started to organize a national guard for Pennsylvania and in 1904 he was asked to organize a troop of cavalry which he did. He headed the troop as captain and with him as officers were Lieutenants William H. Dunlap and Thomas Armstrong.

To Border In 1916

Later Captain Cunningham was given his majority and in 1916 the troop went to the Mexican Border where it established a name for itself as a real military unit. In 1917 it was mobilized for World War Service and sent to Camp Hancock, Georgia as a part of the 28th division.

From the day he organized the group until he died, Captain Cunningham visioned the day when the troop would have a home of its own. In those days it was difficult to get state appropriations for such things but the men who came after Captain Cunningham carried the torch that he had handed them.

Several years ago the years of work began to show fruition and the armory was authorized. On May 9, it will be formally dedicated to the service of Pennsylvania and the United States and for the dedication the leading military figures of the state will be present.

The armory bond will be here as a unit, among them Major-General Edward Martin, adjutant-general of the state, Major General Edward Shannon the hero of the 28th division, Major General Edward J. Stackpole, Colonel John N. Woodend and a number of others.

The dedication service will be outdoors and it is hoped the area around the armory will be packed. The armory is one of the finest in the state and houses a fine unit of soldiers.

William McClure to Robert G. Young, Big Beaver township, $1,-850..56

Fred C. Leiby to Daniel Maddocks, 2nd ward $150.

One of the first things done by the official return board was to open the ballot box of the second precinct of Mahoning township, where the board overlooked the count for Congress, State Senator and General Assembly on the Democrat ticket.

The count for these offices shows: For Congress, Peter P. Reising, 36; Andrew Katcher 9; Elmer D. O'Neill, 47. For State Senate, J. K. McQuiddy, 10; Carmi G. Preston 36, Adam Pszenny 36. The count makes no difference in the general result.

For General Assembly there may be a difference, depending upon the official return. For this office Clyde M. Buzard got 44, Bernard W. N. Chill got 36. Chill was holding a lead of 11 votes over Buzard but this cuts the lead down to 3. The official count may make still further changes.

The official return board is finding evidence of the voter who wants to fill in every space. On the Republican ticket there was no candidate for president filed but a number of candidates got votes. In the first ward Thomas A. Dewey had 103 write ins, Robert A. Taft 18, Arthur H. Vandenburg 10, Arthur H. James 8 and Wendell Willkie 6.

Negro Singer To Appear May 2 In Benefit Program

Mrs. Rosa Page Welch, young colored singer of Chicago, will again appear in concert for the Elm Street Branch of the Y. W. C. A. at the First Presbyterian church Thursday, May 2, at 8:15 o'clock.

"Sincerity of spirit, excellent diction and ability to jump quickly from romantic and jubilant numbers to songs of sadness marked her brief musical program as the finest of its type ever heard in New Castle," said Robert McNeal, New Castle Courier Times, New Castle, Ind.

Mrs. Welch was a school mate of Rosa Brown, Elm Street Branch secretary, and is giving her splendid services for the benefit of Branch repairs.

EAST BROOK

Y. P. C. U. PRESBYTERIAL INSTITUTE

The last of the six institute meetings by the Mercer Presbyterial Y. P. C. U. was held on Monday evening, April 22, in the New Wilmington U. P. church basement. There were two courses taught during the institute, the Art of Leadership by Dr. Galbreath and Christian Friendship by Dr. Black. It was necessary for the instructors to be away on several evenings but they had very able substitutes with Dr. Orr, Prof. Piberich, Dr. Hart and George McFarland filling in. There were ten of the 11 societies representted with East Brook having the largest enrollment with 16. Elmer Dinsmore acted as dean and Carl Stewart as treasurer.

After the final meeting a social time followed with active games led by the SYPW Willard Bowden. Lunch was served by a social committee composed of members of each society represented. This was the first institute ever held by Mercer Presbytery and was a success.

GRANGE MEETING

The East Brook grange met in regular session in their hall Thursday evening, April 25, with Master Glenn Patterson in the chair. The lecture hour stressed "Health" and the following program was presented:

Song—Smile, Smile, Smile.

Discussion, Health Menaces in Our Community and What Can Be Done About Them—Mrs. George Patterson.

Reading, The Ten Commandments of Health—Caroline Moore.

Games conducted by the lecturer, Margaret Bowden.

Talk, Our Public Health System and Service—Mrs. John Robinson.

Roll call—Happy Birthday to the Master.

Song—Stay On the Farm.

Y. P. C. U. PARTY

The Y. P. C. U. will hold their May party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Bowden at Neshannock Falls on Wednesday evening, May 1. Plans are in charge of the social committee, Dorothy Smith chairman.

GRANGE YOUNG PEOPLE'S PARTY

The first of four parties for the young people of the county granges was held on Friday evening, April 26, at the Community House in New Wilmington with the Wilmington grange as host. A number from the East Brook grange attended.

PERSONAL LOANS

HOW YOU CAN BORROW $100 IF YOU CAN PAY BACK $6.97 A MONTH

No endorsers or guarantors needed — No credit questions asked of friends or relatives—Quick, private service.

Do you want to get a loan quickly and simply? At Household Finance you can borrow $20 to $300 without endorsers or guarantors, if you can make regular monthly payments. From the table below you may choose the payment plan which fits your own purse. You may repay a small amount each month. Or you may make larger payments in order to pay up sooner.

Choose your own payment plan

Suppose that you need a $100 loan. You find this amount in the first column of the table. Then read across picking out the monthly payment which you wish to make. You will find, for instance, that monthly payments of $9.75 each will repay a $100 loan in full in twelve months. Or, if you wish smaller payments, as little as $6.97 a month for eighteen months will also repay a $100 loan.

When you borrow at Household Finance, you pay charges only for the actual time you have the money. The sooner you repay, the less your loan costs. Four monthly installments of $26.58 each, or a total of only $106.32, for instance, will repay a $100 loan in full. (Payments shown in the table include all charges. You pay nothing more.)

One rate to everyone

Household charges only one rate—the same to everyone, whether new customer or former borrower.

All you do to borrow

All you do to get a Household Finance loan is to acquaint us with your problem. We require no salary or wage assignment, no stocks or bonds. (Loans are made on furniture, car or note.) No questions regarding your credit are asked of friends or relatives—and you don't have to ask friends or fellow-workers to sign the loan papers with you. You get the money you need in a simple, private transaction.

Fair treatment

Household shows every consideration to the borrower faced with sickness or unemployment while paying on a loan. Last year Household foreclosed on only one chattel mortgage for each 10,000 loans—an action taken then only as protection against fraud.

Find the loan you need in the first column of the table and read across. See how you can repay your loan with a small part of your pay check. Then phone or visit us. You will be under no obligation to borrow.

WE GUARANTEE the total amount figured by using this table to be the full amount you will pay, when payments are made on schedule. You will pay less if you pay your loan ahead of time since you pay charges only for the actual time you have the money. Payments include charges at Household's rate of 2½% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100, and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100. This rate is less than the maximum prescribed by the Small Loan Law.

Furlough in France—A Poilu Visits His Family

A man of war once again becomes just "Papa"

Too happy to mind hard work

A kiss to remember in the dark days ahead

Hard work and plenty of it is the lot of the many thousands of French soldiers, who live in the farm districts, when they return from the front for a few days furlough. Farms which have fallen into disorder for lack of strong masculine hands must be put back into prewar order during the few precious hours away from the Maginot line. This series of pictures shows a typical French poilu greeted by his small family on his arrival home, shows him helping his loyal, sturdy young wife with the household chores and, finally, the tearful farewell at the end of the "holiday" with the parents and their child in a frantic last embrace.

British Bomber—U. S. Built—Makes Direct Hit

A blazing German transport ship (arrow) attests the accuracy of the Royal Air Force plane (upper right) in a raid on Kristiansand Fjord, Norway. The ship, a 10,000-ton vessel, had been unloading supplies and troops. Photo was made from one of the American Lockheed Hudson bombers that participated in the adventure.

Rescuing Nazi Airmen After Naval-Air Duel

C. P. Cablephoto

This photo, passed by the British censor, shows, according to the British caption, a British destroyer standing by to pick up the crew of a German Heinkel bomber after the plane had been shot down by the warship in a naval-air duel, presumably in the North Sea. Boat carrying German aviators to the destroyer is in center. At right, is column of smoke where the bomber burned and sank.

Says New German White Book Seems Only Propaganda

By MAJOR PAUL C. RABORG
(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 29—The new German "White Book" at best is equal to "White Lies"—propaganda.

The professional soldier knows any propaganda has underneath it a basic strategical reason. Therefore, his training makes him tear it apart to see what is inside.

If we analyze the brigade and battalion operation orders offered as exhibits to the German "White Book" what have reached us to date, we find they could have been totally or partially forged. Their authenticity depends on the signature of a brigade major and a battalion adjutant. With photographic art what it is today, these signatures and documents could easily have been transplanted or remade.

Shenango Firemen Battle Brush Fire

Three homes were threatened for a brief time this morning when Shenango township's volunteer firemen battled a stubborn brush and grass fire in the vicinity of Greenwood Methodist church, New Castle-Ellwood City highway.

A squad of 20 fire fighters beat out the blaze, whipped toward the homes by a high wind. The firemen got the call about 8:45 o'clock.

The fire, believed to have started in the Greenwood cemetery did not endanger the church building at any time. It spread up to within 75 feet of one home.

Amend Ordinance Fixing Salary Of City Solicitors

City Council Amends Council Bill Presented By Mayor Mayne April 19

City council, at its meeting this morning, amended the ordinace introduced by Mayor Charles B. Mayne on April 19, changing and fixing the salaries and compensation of the City Solicitor and of the Assistant Solicitor.

The bill as originally presented fixed the salary of the City Solicitor, beginning on the first Monday of May, 1940, at $2,400 and that of the Assistant City Solicitor at $900, for the first year; raising the salary to $2,600 for the solicitor and $1,000 for his assistant for the second year; $2,600 for the solicitor and $1,100 for the assistant the third year; and $3,000 for the solicitor and $1,200 for the assistant for the fourth year and every year thereafter, payable in monthly installments.

No change was made in the salary of the assistant solicitor as provided for in the ordinance, but the salary of the solicitor was changed to read $2,400 for the first year, $2,500 the second year; $2,600 the third year, and $2,700 the fourth year and every year thereafter.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

PUNISHMENT

One of the hardest things we have had to do at the Quintuplet Nursery, I think has been to convince the staff that when one of the children is naughty, she shouldn't be just threatened with punishment—she should get it. Children, if they are to be brought up to be good citizens, must know that punishment is an inevitable consequence of wrong-doing.

Now, I want to make it clear at this point that I am not an advocate of whipping or of being the hard, stern parent at all times. Not one of the Quins has ever had a whipping. As I have said before, the worst punishment they know is being sent into an isolation room to be alone until they have realized their error and are ready to remedy it.

If you make it plain to a child that if he misbehaves, punishment will be swift and sure, you will have proceeded a long way toward making him an A-1 citizen.

Too many people have the tendency to threaten a child with punishment, and not fulfill it. When a child learns such threats are meaningless, they have no effect, of course. Anyway, it isn't a good idea to be always saying "Don't do this, don't do that" to the child.

And it is very important to be certain you haven't one code for one day and another for the next. Nothing confuses a child so much as to be allowed to do a thing one day and to be corrected or punished for doing it the next. This more than the punishment itself builds up resentment in the child. He comes to look on all your rulings as unjust.

I'll admit I'm not sure that isolation such as the Quins have when they're bad would be suitable punishment for all children. Probably not. The Quins are a closer group than most children of a family: they're an entity almost. They've been together constantly since birth. They have so much fun together, the five of them, that for one to be sent off by herself while the other four continue to romp and play is almost like Indian torture. I suppose five minutes is an average punishment for any ordinary misdemeanour.

Some other children mightn't consider such solitary confinement punishment at all. Some children like to be alone and in their cases some other punishment must be discovered. A lot depends on the child's likes and dislikes. Find something he or she prizes, and show the child that bad behavior means the risk of losing it for a while. And when you have hit upon an effective punishment, don't just threaten it. If what the child has done warrants punishment, give it; if it doesn't, don't say anything about it.

Have you ever gone to a hockey game and seen a referee who was inclined to be lenient, let the players get away with some rough play for a while? Well, naturally as they find they can get away with something, they keep trying a little more and a little more until the first thing the referee knows, he has a first class riot on his hands—a riot that could have been averted, if he had just checked the fouls right from the start. It is the same thing with children. If you let any objectionable thing they do go unchecked, it won't be long before you are in trouble.

Remember, the time to begin bringing up a child in the way he should go is the day he is born.

Hold Operator's Tests Tuesday In Sampson Street

Prospective motor vehicle operators will receive an examination when the State Motor police arrive at 10 a. m. Tuesday in Sampson street. The tests will conclude at 3 p. m.

Those who desire a test must possess a learner's permit, the registration card for the car which they will use in the test, be accompanied by a licensed operator who must have his card. All must be signed in ink.

The examinations will occur in the order of the arrival of the learners in line. Each must take his proper turn. None will be examined after 3 p. m. because the examiners must depart for Butler at that time.

Learners must give their names and address and describe, if any, physical disabilities following which they are put through visibility and color blind tests.

The lights on the car to be used next are examined by the police. They must be in good condition. Cars must have a windshield wiper and rear vision mirror.

The tires must be in such condition they are safe and the brakes also must be in good order, likewise the steering apparatus. If any faults are found the cars must be conditioned to suit the requirements of the law.

The learners next are put through an operating test. One of the requirements is that they must turn the car in the street without front or rear wheels striking the curb.

The applicants next are examined as to their knowledge of Pennsylvania motor laws. Many skip studying the laws. However, none are passed unless they know the answers to the questions asked.

If a person passes, his learner"s permit is so stamped and he or she receives an operator's card from Harrisburg within 10 days.

Should an applicant fail he or she again must take a test. However if they have failed three times they cannot again take a test for several months.

HOME LENDING SHOWS INCREASE

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent
New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 29.—Home lending in Pennsylvania increased materially during the first quarter of this year, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board reported today.

During the three months, urban home mortgages financed in the state numbered 15,987 and totaled $49,514,000. This compared with 14,085 mortgages amounting to $44,463,000 financed in the corresponding period last year.

Savings and loan associations led all type of lenders in the state. They financed 5,321 mortgages amounting to $14,770,000. Such lendings by other types of lenders included: banks and trust companies, $14,327,000; individuals, $8,914,000; insurance companies, $1,854,000; mutual savings banks, $1,090,000; and others, $8,559,000.

GRAHAM VOTES TO OVERRIDE VETOES

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent
New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 29.—Representative Louis E. Graham of Beaver last week voted twice to override vetoes of veterans legislation by President Roosevelt.

The first of these vetoes was against a bill authorizing mileage and travel pay for Spanish-American war veterans who remained in the Philippine Islands after the peace treaty and reinlisted. The bill would pay them for a trip home which they never made. The House overrode this veto and sent it to the Senate.

The second of the vetoes was against a bill increasing the pensions of 362 Civil War widows. The House killed this bill by sustaining the veto.

On both of these counts, Mr. Graham wanted to enact the bills over the president's opposition.

Senator Wheeler Not Candidate For Vice President

Rumor Roosevelt Plans Conference

Senator Wheeler Is In Receptive Mood For Presidential Nomination, Is Report

ONCE WAS CANDIDATE FOR VICE PRESIDENT

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Amid rumors that President Roosevelt plans an early conference with him on the subject of politics, Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, liberal Montana Democrat, today announced he would not be a candidate for the Democratic vice presidential nomination.

The announcement was prefaced by like declarations from his capital friends. Asked whether his friends were accurately describing his attitude toward the vice presidential nomination, Wheeler declared:

"I will not be a candidate for the vice presidency. I would not run for vice president on any ticket. I much prefer to remain as a senator from Montana than to be vice president of the United States. I'm not old enough to be vice president."

Ends Inner Circle Drive

Wheeler's declaration apparently ends a drive by "inner circle" New Dealers to put a Roosevelt-Wheeler ticket in the field, after drafting President Roosevelt for a third term. His stand was not unexpected as he is reported to have told New Dealers a year ago that he would not accept second place on a third term ticket.

The declaration, however, still leaves the way clear for the Democrats to nominate Wheeler for the presidency. He is a receptive candidate for that nomination, his friends say, though he has made no move to secure delegates and has no organization supporting him.

Wheeler once sought the vice presidency, running for that office on the elder LaFollette's progressive ticket in the 1924 campaign. At that time, however, he took the nomination knowing he would not be elected. Unlike the 1924 campaign, Wheeler's term in the senate expires this year and he is an active candidate for reelection to his present post.

Capital politicos meanwhile wonder what lies behind the rumor that the president plans a political conference with Wheeler. Some believe the rumor, which emanated from Warm Springs last week, means the president would sound out Wheeler on taking the second place spot on a third term ticket.

Big Army Bomber Lands At Airport

Crew Enroute To Youngstown Unable To Land Ship At Ohio Airports

Four members of the crew of a huge United States Army Martin Bomber airplane, brought their ship down on fine-hard surfaced runways at the New Castle Airport, on Saturday afternoon.

The crew was enroute to Youngstown, O., to visit relatives, but found all of the airports in that Ohio city unsuited to the needs of the gigantic airplane.

Lieutenant Coursey was in charge of the plane and members of the crew were: Sergeant Frettier, Private McFadden and Private Price. All flew in here from Chanute Field, Ill.

The plane, a twin-motored craft, has a wing spread of 78 feet. The airplane remained at the local airport until Sunday, when the crew again took off for their home port in Illinois.

Detour Beyond New Bedford Is In Bad Condition

YOUNGSTOWN, April 29.—Traffic on U. S. Route 422 is being detoured between Coitsville and New Bedford, because of the widening project between Coitsville-Hubbard road and a point one and one-half miles east, near the state line.

The Youngstown Auto Club warns that the detour, which is about four miles long, is very bad in spots, with extensive frost damage and bumpy pavement. The Auto Club advises motorists to go to New Castle on U. S. 224, via Poland and Edenburg, which is an excellent new concrete highway east of Poland.

Another alternate route recommended by William H. Loller, auto club secretary-manager, is State Route 90 south to Route 630, just north of New Middletown, then east on 630 and Pennsylvania 317 to Mt. Jackson, then 108 into New Castle.

U. S. 422 is being built into a three-lane superhighway east of Coitsville as another step in the planned three-lane road all the way from Youngstown to New Castle.

PITTSBURGH TESTING LABORATORY

PITTSBURGH, PA.
April 1, 1940

The Sun Oil Company,
1608 Walnut Street,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Gentlemen:

We submit herewith a detailed report of the mileage tests conducted on "Nu-Blue Sunoco" in comparison with fourteen premium-priced gasolines. All gasolines for test were purchased by us at regular retail service stations in Philadelphia, Boston, Cleveland and Detroit.

These tests were made under similar conditions of load at engine speeds corresponding to 30, 50 and 70 miles per hour. The average miles per gallon obtained for "Nu-Blue Sunoco" at these three speeds and loads was not exceeded by any of the premium-priced gasolines tested.

As verified by the attached report, test conditions were such that all gasolines were handled and tested impartially.

Very truly yours,
PITTSBURGH TESTING LABORATORY

UNSURPASSED in mileage in scientific tests against 14 leading extra priced gasolines

These tests, completed March 27, 1940, by the Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory, were made to cover different driving speeds: low, medium and high. Regardless of speed, Nu-Blue Sunoco was unsurpassed in miles per gallon; and since it sells at regular gas price, Nu-Blue Sunoco gave more miles per dollar.

To make a fair test, don't dilute Nu-Blue Sunoco with other gasoline. Instead—for best results—let your tank run practically empty. Then put in Nu-Blue Sunoco. Compare it against any gasoline at any price, and particularly against extra priced fuels. ... We'll rest our case on your findings.

Keeping Watch For Vandals Tampering With State Signs

Owen Fox reports that about four thousand evergreens, white and red pine, have been planted on the hillside along Rural avenue. All are doing fine.

It has been noticed that vandals have been tampering and removing some of the state signs placed in that location.

Persons caught committing these acts, or disturbing the trees in any way, are liable to a $300 fine on conviction by the state authorities.

These trees were planted under the auspices of the Men's Garden club.

West Conference Luther League Of Pittsburgh Synod Convention At New Brighton

All temporary officers were elected unanimously to serve until the spring convention of 1941 at the West Conference Luther League of the Pittsburgh Synod convention in New Brighton Trinity church, Saturday. William J. Gregor of New Castle was named president of the group.

Other officers elected were: vice president, Russell Riethmiller, Butler; secretary, Ruth E. Heckle, Freedom; assistant secretary, Marjorie Martsolf, New Brighton; treasurer, Harold Hollerman, Ellwood City; statistician, Olive Wahl, Evans City; life service secretary, Betty Ann Painter, Evans City; missionary secretary, Elva Hild, Monaca; educational secretary, Margaret Read, Monaca; intermediate secretary, Ruth Martsolf, Beaver Falls.

Rev. J. Frederick Bermon, pastor of the host church, and conference chaplain, conducted devotions during the day. The constitution, drawn up by the executive committee, was adopted and announcements were brought to the convention by the synod representative, Carl Beisecker, president of the Pittsburgh synod league.

At dinner, served at 5:45, Vincent Bedison of New Brighton, filled the role of toastmaster and his father, Charles Bedison, chorister, led the pep singing. Special numbers were presented by the New Brighton high school mixed double quartet, which also sang at the evening session and an orchestra.

The convention address was delivered Saturday evening by Rev. O. W. Carlson, pastor of the First Lutheran church of Butler, whose talk was based on the convention theme, "Serious Zest In Our Christian Quest". The installation of officers, by candlelight, under the direction of Rev. Bermon, brought the convention to a close.

Over 200 registered during the day and there was a delegation of 36 from New Castle.

At The Airport

Sunday, with all the fine weather, appeared to be "opening day" at the New Castle Airport. Many spectators lined the field all afternoon and early evening, watching the activities of the local airmen.

There were numerous pilots, from other cities, who stopped at the port Sunday. Several were on cross-country flights, while others were just out for a Sunday jaunt.

Two pilots licenses are being done away with by the Civil Aeronautics Authority, according to word received here by flyers. In the future it will be impossible to secure either a solo or limited commercial license.

First step for new pilots in the future will be a private license and then a transport license. A total of 35 hours are required for a private license while 200 are needed for a transport.

Register books are being kept at both hangers at the port now, and all visiting flyers are asked to register, giving name, address, type of ship, and destination.

Nelson Brown, C. A. A. inspector is expected at the airport either this week or next, in order to give flying tests to the local pilots.

Promotions Given Steel Executives

Malcolm F. McConnell Is Given Promotion By Carnegie-Illinois Co.

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 29.—Four promotions for officials of the Homestead and Irvin Works of Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation were announced today.

All effective May 1. The changes named Malcolm F. McConnell as manager of technical development; James W. Kinnear, Jr., as assistant manager of operations, Pittsburgh district; Howard G. McIlvried as general superintendent at Homestead, and Lawrence S. Dahl as general superintendent of Irvin Works.

McConnell, a veteran "big steel" employe, has been general superintendent of Homestead Works since 1933, previously serving in similar capacity at the Mingo Junction, O., works. Kinnear has been assistant general superintendent at Homestead since 1937. McIlvried has been general superintendent of Irvin since its construction in 1938. Dahl was named assistant general superintendent of the new Irvin Works on Nov. 1, 1937.

Funeral Services For Two Miners

(International News Service)

HAZLETON, Pa., April 29.—Funeral services were completed today for two miners who were trapped Saturday beneath a fall of earth and rock in a mine 600 feet below the surface at Tomhicken.

George Wagner, 38, and Leroy Lindeman, 52, survived by nine children, were reportedly "robbing" mine pillars when they were buried by a rush of mud, rock, timbers and coal. Rescue workers extricated them after 10 hours.

In 1926, five men were entombed in the same mine and were saved after living for eight days without food. A sixth man was drowned in underground flood waters.

Falcons Honored At Fine Banquet

Over 300 Present At Falcon Hall Saturday Night To Honor Floor Champs

Players Given Fine Jackets, Trophy Presented To Falcon President

Over 300 were present Saturday night at the Polish Falcon hall to honor the city-county basketball champions. The banquet got under way at 6:30 o'clock. Stuffed cabbage and all the trimmings was the piece-de-resistance.

With the meal over Marion Kolodjeski, Polish Falcon physical director, introduced Frank Golis as toastmaster of the banquet. Golis responded with a fine job of introducing the speakers.

Many Fine Speeches

Opening the speaking program was Sid Lockley, city controller, who offered his congratulations to the champions. Attorney Walter Kielor was next and gave a fine talk. Miss Regina Wajert offered a very pleasing piano solo.

Bart Richards of The News responded to a toast with a fine talk. District Attorney John Lamoree was present and gave a fine talk also.

Grover C. Washabaugh of Westminster college was the principal speaker. He gave his customary fine talk and lauded the champions for their fine victory. Miss Theresa Wajert offered a very pleasing accordion solo.

Others called on for talks were County Detective Paul Welsh, Tony Ostrosky, former coach, and Charles "Bugs" Walther of The News, Stan Augustyn and Dr. Nugent, county coroner.

Falcon Players Awarded

The closing part of the program was given over to the presentation of the city-county tourney trophy to President Joseph Biedka by Coach Marion Sniezek. President Biedka responded with a nice talk in Polish.

The following players were given jackets by Marion Kolodjeski: Captain and Assistant Coach Marion Sniezek, Walter Kwolek, Stan Potoczny, Eddie Kirol, Eddie Noga, John Carik, Hen Dugan, George Adams, Ray Bombyk, Eddie Wenda, Eddie Cash Koszela and John Noga, business manager. Henry Koszela and Paul Morrison were unable to be present, but jackets are being sent to them.

A dance followed the banquet at which the public was invited.

Dodgers Again Defeat Giants

Brooklyn Hangs Up Eighth Straight Of Year And Are Still Undefeated

REDS AGAIN UPSET PITTSBURGH PIRATES

By ED KIELY
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 29.—The baseball campaign moved into its third week today with the fans talking chiefly of the rapid rise of the amazing Brooklyn Dodgers and the equally rapid decline of the fabulous New York Yankees.

Of course the season is still too young to view these strange happenings with grave concern, but the fact remains that the Dodgers are leading the National League race while the Yanks are in next to last place in the American. Brooklyn has won eight games without a defeat and the Yanks have salvaged only three out of a possible eight.

Big Crowd On Hand

More than 50,000 fervid fans were on hand to see Dolf Camilli add a bit of the dramatic touch to the flatbushers' eighth straight victory by poling out a ninth inning homer with a mate on base to beat the Giants, 5 to 3. Pete Coscarart also pitched in with a circuit clout for the Dodgers, while Mel Ott socked a four-bagger for New York.

At the same time the Boston Bees, after six failures, won their first game by nosing out the Phillies, 3-2. Home runs by Johnny Mize, Joe Medwick and Don Gutteridge enabled the St. Louis Cardinals to overtake the Chicago Cubs, 7 to 5, while Cincinnati garnered 15 hits to thump the Pittsburgh Pirates, 8 to 2.

Yanks Lose Again

In the American League Dutch Leonard continued to hold his spell over the Yankees as the Washington Senators outlasted New York in a ten-inning foray. The score was 3 to 2, with the usually sure-fielding Flash Gordon checking in with three Yankee misplays.

Boston had to go 12 innings to edge out the Athletics. Jim Tabor, who has been in a batting slump, broke up the 4-4 deadlock with a homer. Cleveland also traveled into extra innings before Hal Trosky's homer in the tenth scuttled the Detroit Tigers. The first baseman's prodigious poke, with Ben Chapman on base, gave the Indians an 11-9 triumph.

The Chicago White Sox took a firmer grip on the cellar position after being trounced 11 to 8 by St. Louis Browns.

Buddy Baer To Battle Mann In New York Friday

Buddy Baer Hopes To Get Crack At Joe Louis In Near Future

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., April 29—It seems extremely likely today that we are about to see both of the big California Baers whipped within 25 days of each other in forthcoming prize fights, starting Friday night at Madison Square Garden. This is the occasion of Buddy (younger) Baer's proposed comeback from a so-called stinkeroo in his last appearance around here, when, apparently, he quit to Gunnar Barlund: In thns week's engagement he opposes Nathan Mann, Max (older) Baer, who last was seen geeting cut up and stopped by Lou Nova, will trade bull-like rushes, if any, with T. Tarzan Galento, Esq., at Jersey City on May 28.

Both of the Baers are in training here, but Max hasn't started to box yet. For that matter, neither has Buddy, if what he showed against one Charley Ketchuck, of Binghamton, N. Y., yesterday is his idea of boxing. He caught everything that the Ketchuck person threw at him, and did most of the catching with his nostrils, with the result that he was bleeding at the finish.

The point seems to be that if Buddy, approximately 250 pounds, and 6 feet-6, is bad against the 190-pound Ketchucks, he probably won't be much better against Mann, a broad-beamed, hard hitting, willing fellow who has scored nearly a dozen victories in a row since being knocked out by Galento.

Unless Buddy can land early with high right hand—a pretty good and stiff punch the way he throws it—he probably will get some lumps—but big ones.

Coates Goes To Beaver Falls For Baseball Training

Former Slovak Pitching Star Will Get Tryout With Beaver Falls Browns

Mike Coates of Galbreath avenue left this morning for Beaver Falls, where he will join the Beaver Falls Browns baseball team as one of their pitchers, with whom he signed up on September 5, by Scout Osley of the St. Louis Browns American league club. Beaver Falls team is a "farm team" of the latter and belong to the Pennsylvania State league. Their first game will be May 9 with Warren, O.

Mike, who is 20 years of age, has played in the city league for four years two years with the American Legion and two years with the Slovaks team.

During the summer of 1939, Mike attended the St. Louis Browns baseball school at Youngstown, where Osley saw him work out, later giving him a contract.

NEW YORK, April 29.—A veritable orgy of record smashing performances at the National Track and Field Championships seems assured today in the wake of what happened Saturday at the Penn and Drake Relay Carnivals.

A study of the records of the various meets held Saturday more than ever stresses the fact that no one section of the country has a monopoly on great athletes.

For instance, two members of the North Texas State Teachers' College relay team, which set a half-mile carnival record of 1:25.4 at the Penn relays, come from the sidewalks of New York.

Many New Records

It appears the boys go in for travel in a big way these days and so it is not unusual to find star prep and high school athletes from the East wandering to the South, East and West, and the boys from distant points coming East for their sheepskins.

Our old American Olympic track coach, Lawson Robertson, shrugged helplessly when asked to venture an opinion on the limit of track speed, endurance or power.

"Search me," he said. "All I know is they keep on writing new records into the books and any time you get ready to say that's the limit, along comes some youngster to make you look foolish.

"It is obvious that the average height and weight of the boys today is greater than it was 25 years ago. There are more of them competing and they are better conditioned.

Sports World Ramblings

Local tidbits...After pegging impressively during spring training sessions, Fred Shaffer is having trouble finding the winning formula. So far, he has started two clashes. On both occasions he was sent to the showers. Against St. Paul he lasted one and one-third innings. Chucking against the vaunted Kansas City crew, the localite was knocked off the knoll in the fourth. He has twirled five and one-third inning, dishing out 13 hits and has issued four free tickets to first.

Ralph Ferrucci of the Wampum White Sox will have his own Johnny Gee in the person of Francis Scherfel of Baden. The elongated sandlotter is 6 feet 2½ inches in height and plays first base besides pitching. Scherfel played in the Beaver county league in '39....Bill Marshall, Koppel star, has signed a Wampum White Sox contract. Marshall was a feature performer on last season's American Legion aggregation.

Dots and dashes....Physically fit following an active winter playing basketball, Johnny Carik reports to the Beaver Falls Browns of the Penn-State circuit today. The valley club is a member of the St. Louis Browns farm....Johnny Dean, whose winning streak was halted by straight punching Jimmy Bivins, recently, hopes to land a few scraps in the district during the summer months.

Diamond factographs....Bobby Feller thumped the Detroit Tigers six times in 1939..."Lefty" Grove has figures in what ranks as two of the biggest trades in baseball. In 1924, Jack Dunn of Baltimore received $105,000 from the Athletics for the string bean twirler. Connie Mack later shipped Grove to the Boston Red Sox for $125,000. Max Bishop was thrown in for good measure.

Walt Johnson was plagued by bad luck during his career. He figured in 51 clashes in which only one run was scored. Despite the run shortage on the part of his team, Johnson managed to win 33 of these 1-0 duels...Buck Ross has defeated the Yankees seven times against 10 losses....Don Gutteridge, Cardinal infielder, and Ray Mueller, Pittsburgh catcher, are cousins.

Favor Bimelech To Win Derby

Mioland Is Also Highly Regarded In Annual Derby Saturday At Louisville

"BIG BIM" WILL RACE ON TUESDAY

By CLYDE L. REECE
International News Service Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 29.—Bimelech, Col. E. R. Bradley's Kentucky Derby favorite, today received one of his finest compliments to date.

The plug came from none other than Tom Smith, trainer of Mioland, the west coast flyer belonging to Charles S. Howard. Said Smith: "Bimelech is the horse to beat Saturday, and if he doesn't win, we'll be right there with Mioland. Take your own choice for third."

A number of other keen track observers feel the same way about "Big Bim." These include Trainer Otto Bagley, Churchill Downs race caller Frank Ashley, Eldorado Farms' owner C. C. Roth, and several jockeys and ex-jockeys.

The facts also seem to point to Bimelech as the "it" horse of Col. Matt Winn's $75,000 added classic. He is fitter than a fiddle; he won six races in six starts as a two-year-old, and copped his first start as a three-year-old this year—Keeneland's Blue Grass stakes.

Bimelech Favored

Tomorrow, Bimelech will be an inside favorite to win the one mile, $2,500 added derby trial. Among his opponents are expected to be Roman, Royal Man, Potranco, Gallahadion, Inscolad, and possibly tough Hombre and Black Brummell, maybe others. Red Dock, who ran second to Dit in Saturday's Wood Memorial at Jamaica, is a subscriber, but even if he arrived early today his preparation time would be short.

Bimelech, Mioland and Pictor had workouts scheduled today, "Big Bim" having been vanned over to the Downs yesterday and Pictor having come by train from Havre De Grace. The Downs' colony now numbers approximately 1,400 thoroughbreds of all ages.

Come what may in the classic on Saturday, an estimated 100,000 persons will be on hand. The crowds probably will begin coming early, many for the Sammy Angott-Davey Day NBA lightweight championship bout on Derby eve, and some for tours of the more famous farms hereabouts.

Bowling Congress In Closing Stages

(International News Service)

DETROIT, April 29.—The fortieth annual American bowling congress championships roared into the home stretch of its 62-day marathon scheduled here today as representatives of seven states were slated to take over the alleys in an attempt to oust the Monarchs of Chicago from the five-man leadership.

A definite slackening-off of competition has been seen during the past few sessions of the classic as the first week-end without a major change was posted. Of the less than 500 teams left to challenge for the crown vacated by the Fife Electrics of Detroit, 1939 champions, only Detroit Strohs, who roll Wednesday, appear definite threats.

The first shift of booster quintets since the early sessions of the tourney are likewise slated for action tonight at Schlitz of Chicago were installed as favorites to pace the 120-team firing.

The leaders: five-man event, Monarch Beer, Chicago, 3,047; doubles, Herb Freitag-Joe Sinke, Chicago, 1,346; singles, Ray Brown, Terre Haute, Ind., 742; all-events, Fred Fischer, Buffalo, N. Y., 2,001.

Y. P. Council Hike Tonight

ELLWOOD CITY, April 29.—The members of the Young People's Council of the Ellwood City district will hold a "hobo hike" this evening. The members are requested to meet at the First Presbyterian church at 7 p. m. At that time they will hike to an unannounced destination for a period of recreational games. The hike, which will be in charge of James Blaine, promises to be one of interest.

Upon returning, the group will go to the Baptist church where Julia Funkhouser and her committee will serve refreshments, hobo style.

Sunday school members, superintendents, counselors and ministers are invited. Take along flashlights and leave that "Sunday-go-meeting" suit at home, is the advice that the committee gives to all hikers.

Miss Frances Pica Weds Dominec Butch

Ceremony Performed Saturday Morning At B. V. M. Church By Fr. Galliano

ELLWOOD CITY, April 29—A pretty wedding was solemnized on Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the B. V. M. church in Fourth St., when Miss Frances Pica was united in marriage to Dominec Butch, of the Ellwood-Wampum road.

Rev. Fr. Vincent Galliano officiated in the presence of many relatives and friends.

The bride was attractively gowned in white satin fashioned with a long train and tulle veil cascading from a tiara of tiny seed pearls. She carried an arm cluster of calla lilies.

Miss Rose Carvocku, of Akron, O was the maid of honor and wore blue net over blue taffeta. Her flowers were tea roses.

Lawrence Crespo served at best man and Lillian Mathas and Junior Bellissimo were the junior attendants.

After the ceremony, a wedding dinner followed at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Butch, of the Wampum road. A delicious dinner was served to the many guests at three long tables prettily decorated with a wedding cake and an arrangement of red roses and calla lilies. Mrs Butch was aided in serving by her daughters, Nora, Josephine, Marian, Anne and Elizabeth.

Following a wedding trip, the couple will reside at Summitt avenue. Mr. Butch is employed at Beaver Falls.

Reformed Church Celebration Ends

Thirty-Fifth Anniversary Program Is Most Successful On Sunday

ELLWOOD CITY, April 29.—Special services held throughout the week in celebration of the thirty-fifth anniversary of the Immanuel Reformed church were concluded in a fitting and interesting manner on Sunday. There was a very large attendance at both the morning and evening meetings.

Dr. William F. DeLong of the board of missions, of Philadelphia, was the guest speaker in the morning and in the evening the Shelby Male Chorus under the direction of James F. Croft presented a splendid concert.

Following the morning service, still and panoramic moving pictures of the congregation were taken.

A special anniversary offering was taken in the morning with $151 being received.

Throughout the week, the services were most successful and worthwhile and refect a great deal of credit upon the many committees who have worked for weeks to make the celebration the outstanding success that it was.

Nichols Mark Golden Wedding

ELLWOOD CITY, April 29.—Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Nickols of 100 Fifth street enjoyably celebrated their golden wedding anniversary with a lovely, informal dinner on Sunday at their home.

Elks Bowling League Banquet Held Here

Dr. Thomas Holleran, Greenville, Is Guest Speaker At Enjoyable Event

ELLWOOD CITY, April 29—The Pennsylvania-Ohio Elks Bowling league concluded their season on Saturday evening with a successful banquet at the local club in Crescent avenue.

Some 150 members and guests attended the stag dinner representing the eight teams, composing the league. An appetizing turkey dinner was prepared by Lew Young and served under the direction of Merit Book.

Exalted Ruler, James Reasman of the local club presented attorney Ben Giffen, of Pittsburgh as toastmaster. Dr. Thomas Holleran of Greenville, was the guest speaker with his topic being "Pep." He took the three letters of the word of his three points, Purpose, Energy and Perseverance and explained how they developed in athletics could be used in the various phases of living.

H. M. McAnuly, president of the league, presented the first prize to Etna, who won the championship and the second prizes to Ellwood City and McKeesport, tied as runners-up.

James Fitzgerald was general chairman of the affair and his aides were Charles Twentier, reception, and Lewis Nickum, decorations.

Butler, New Kensington, Pittsburgh and Beaver Falls have made requests to enter the league next year.

After the dinner, the women joined the affair with cabaret entertainment and dancing being enjoyed.

Sunday afternoon, Joseph Eckert and Paul Cartwright, attended a meeting at Coraopolis where the R A. C. A. clubs discussed plans for the Beaver Valley flag day celebration to be held in this city on June 14.

Activities of this week include a cabaret dance for members and guests on Saturday evening, May 4, with Fay Parker, of a Pittsburgh radio station, to provide the entertainment.

Father, Son Banquet At Christian Church

ELLWOOD CITY, April 29—A spirit of fellowship marked the annual father and son banquet held on Saturday evening at the First Christian church under the auspices of the Men's Bible class.

About one hundred attended the enjoyable affair with the sumptuous dinner being served by ladies of the church with spring flowers featuring the table decorations.

Rev. Herman Patton presided as toastmaster. Stanley Evans led the singing with a violin solo being contributed by Samuel Rice.

A. J. Howell offered the toast to the sons and George O'Brien responded to the fathers. Prof. I. T. Green, of Bethany college, and a former pastor of the church, was the main speaker and he gave a sincere talk on the theme, "A Tribute to Fathers."

Girl Scout Festival Is Most Successful

More Than Six Hundred Parents And Friends Attend Program Saturday

ELLWOOD CITY, April 29.—For the past year, Girl Scouts troop of this vicinity have studied customs and habits of foreign lands and in culmination of that work presented a completely successful International Festival at the Lincoln high school gymnasium on Saturday evening in the presence of more than 600 parents and friends of the participants.

Troop One, Miss Edith Worcester, captain, portrayed France with a style show and fete. Mrs. Peter Santis was mistress of ceremonies and Miss Aliqui Santis played a piano solo as did Miss Thelma Winter. A trio was given by Thelma Winter, Ver Ann Fleeger and Elizabeth Owen.

Scotland was the theme of Troop 2, Mrs. Clyde Gibson, captain, and Alice Shirley and Peggy Young, assistants. Patty Painter dance, Betty Jane Relph sang a solo and a pantomine, "Lochinvar,' 'was given by the entire troop in costume with Patty Painter as leader.

Folk dances under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nido with accordion accompaniment featured Italy, represented by Troop 3, Mrs. Orin Stewart, captain.

"The Ghosts of Hilo" by Paul Bliss, an Hawaiian operetta was presented by Troop 4, Mrs. Harold Gerson and Miss Florence Dougherty, captains, and was outstanding. Leading roles were taken by Marilynne Barro, Eileen Holmquist, Rosalie Lebowitz and Helen Fitzgerald. Marcia Silverblatt was accompanist. This troop sold pineapple juice for the Julette Lowe fund for refugee children, realizing an unexpected sum.

Poland, represented by Helen Gotjen, captain, was pictured by intricate folk dances in costume with the group singing, "Hush My Little One." Helen Ozkowshi gave a poem and a duet was sung by Leona Franus and Frances Kowalcuk. The same type of program was given by Troop 6, Miss Dorothy Jane Dambach, captain, in portrayal of Hunguary. The Brownies, Mrs. Boyd Barrett, captain, contributed two songs and as the girl scout chorus, with Mrs. Thomas Jones, director, and Mrs. E. L. Liebendorfer, accompanist, sang two songs and as a grand finale the entire group sang America and closed with the ever impressive taps.

ELLWOOD CITY, April 29.—Rev. H. E. Woods, pastor of the Ridge Avenue Presbyterian church of Sharpsville, will be the guest speaker at the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church at special services to be held on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings.

The services will begin at 8 o'clock with Rev. Thomas G. Berger, pastor, to preside.

Church Bowling League Banquet

ELLWOOD CITY, April 29—One of the most enjoyable events of Saturday evening took place at the Castleton hotel, New Castle, when members of the bowling league of Ellwood churches assembled for a banquet in conclusion of the season.

Lloyd Hamill capably filled the role of toastmaster and presented the captains of the various teams who spoke briefly. Splendid entertainment was provided by Gene Fola, of Pittsburgh, a sleight-of-hand artist.

There were ten teams in the league with the championship being won by St. Monico's, who defeated the first half U. P. church winners in the play-off, winning 5 out 6 matches.

C. D. Of A. Dance On Thursday Night

ELLWOOD CITY, April 29—Promising to be one of the leading social activities of the week will be the first annual dance to be held on Thursday, May 2, at the Elks club in Crescent avenue by the local Catholic Daughters of America court.

Dancing has been arranged from 9 until 1 o'clock with music to be provided by a Pittsburgh orchestra. Cards and bingo will be featured for those that do not dance.

Mrs. Mary Desport is general chairman of the affair.

Dewey Forced To Remain In Bed

(International News Service)

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., April 29.—Under doctors' orders, New York District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey remained in bed for the third day today nursing an upset stomach and slight fever.

The young Republican presidential aspirant's condition was described as "not serious," but Dr. John A. Sevier said Dewey needed the rest.

Auto Thefts Are Puzzling Police

Believe Tie-up Exists With Gang Operating Between Here And Akron, O.

Several automobile thefts which have occurred during the past few days are puzzling city police, who are trying to solve the matter. Chief of Police M. J. Young stated today. Whether they are the work of a gang working between here and Akron, or are the work of youths who seek transportation back and forth between New Castle and Akron, is not known.

On April 28, a Pontiac coach was stolen from the lot of Sol DeLullo's service station on West State street. It was found on West North street, the next day, bearing Ohio license plates with the numerals C-155-F, ownership of which was traced to an Akron man, who reported they had been stolen from his car.

Saturday night around midnight, Theo Speck, of 224 Sumner avenue, discovered his 1940 LaSalle car had been stolen from the parking lot at Alford's service station, corner of South and Mercer streets. It bore Pennsylvania license plates VP 293. The car was recovered on West North street, without any plates attached on Sunday, about noon. The plates, it was learned, were recovered by Akron police, having been found on a dump in that city.

This morning they received word over teletype of the arrest in Erie of two young men, Chester L. Small, of Meadville, and Paul William Peters, of Saegertown, in connection with the holdup of a cafe in Cleveland, O., at 12:30 noon on April 26. Police believe there may also be some connection with the theft of the local cars and the holdup in Cleveland.

21st Anniversary Of Luther League

Nearly 100 Visitors At Celebration In Finnish Lutheran Church Sunday

Nearly 100 visitors and delegates from Warren, O., Cleveland, Conneaut, Ashtabula, Girard, O., and Lowellville attended the 21st anniversary celebration and program of the Finnish Lutheran church Luther league, Sunday evening.

The theme of the anniversary program was "Walk in the Light" and Rev. Einar Lehto, pastor of the Finnish Lutheran church, spoke on the theme in both Finnish and English.

During the evening, a telegram of greeting was received from the synodical college at Hancock, Mich., from former members of the league who are at school there.

Vocal solos and talks from members of the different leagues were also featured. The local boys' octette opened the program singing "Send Out Thy Light" and closed with "At the Close of the Day."

Refreshments were served afterwards in the church parlors. Those on the committee in charge of refreshments included Miss Alice Koski, Miss Viola Karki and Miss Elma Parkkonen. The program committee consisted of Sulo Miskanen, Andy Karki and William Karki.

Bury High School Girl At Abington

(International News Service)

ABINGTON, Pa., April 29.—As the body of his 16-year-old stepdaughter was lowered into the grave Edwin J. Smith this afternoon vowed to "see that justice is done" and repeated his hope that Robert Heineman, 16, would pay for the slaying in the electric chair.

"Robert is a rat and he should be treated like a rat—exterminated," said Smith, a prosperous traveling salesman.

The high school girl, Edith Snyder, was killed by a bullet fired through a closed window last Thursday night. She was studying her lessons in the living room, when the assassin crept onto the porch of her home and fired. The bullet pierced her heart and she died within a few seconds.

Weeping bitterly as Edith's coffin was lowered into the ground, the overwrought mother sobbed: "I only want to see justice done."

Scores of persons, including Edith's classmates, attended the funeral services. Heineman's parents sent a letter expressing their "deep sympathy".

"We feel sorry for Robert's parents," said Smith. "Their burden is greater than ours. We'd rather have a child dead than a criminal."

Minnesota Governor Is In National Capital To Meet Party Leaders

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 29. — Minnesota's strapping and youthful governor—six-foot three-inch 33-year-old Harold E. Stassen—was in Washington today to plan, with Republican leaders, the "keynote" speech he will deliver before the G. O. P. National Convention in June.

Stassen, recently elected temporary chairman of the conveition, will confer with House Republican Leader Joe Martin of Massachusetts and Senate Republican Leader Charles McNary of Oregon. Martin is the convention's permanent chairmandesignate. Both Martin and McNary are "dark horse" presidential candidates.

The red-headed governor, who might be a candidate himself if he wasn't too young to become president under the law arrived in Washington last night and immediately predicted that the GOP will carry the midwest this year. He conceded the issue will be close but said "the trend is toward stronger and stronger support of the Grand Old Party".

"I believe the Republican party will adopt a constructive program," he added. "I know the voters in the Middle West are for such a program."

Stassen, who is up for reelection, said he came to Washington to consult McNary and Martin because he felt that their views on topics he will be expected to discuss in the "keynote" speech would be of great help to him in preparing the address.

Hold Driver Of Motor Vehicle

Allege Local Man Carried Pistol And Drove Car While Intoxicated

Chief of Police M. J. Young stated this morning that charges of driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated, and of carrying concealed weapons will be placed against Jesse Burley, colored, of Hemlock street, before a local alderman this afternoon.

Burley, in company with his brother, Charles Burley, and "Doc" Steen, of Knox avenue, were picked up on South Jefferson street, near Central fire station, after complaints had been made that the car driven by Burley was being operated in a reckless manner on the Butler road, and later on Arlington avenue, Sunday morning about 9 o'clock.

The brother, Charles Burley, and Steen, were discharged this morning. When searched at police station, a loaded .32 caliber revolver was found in a holster under Jesse Burley's belt.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

Wasn't that a real day yesterday. The roads were filled with folks who were out to enjoy the sunshine. Yes my friends it looks like spring is here to stay, although it sometimes gets a little chilly in May . . . let's hope that we miss that part this year. My, oh my but the sun feels good.

Quite a few towns went on daylight savings time yesterday . . . so when you are planning on making a trip be sure you check up on the time . . . there is nothing more disturbing than to tell a friend what time you will arrive and not mention if it will be daylight time or standard time. No doubt you will probably be in a mix-up once or twice before the summer is over.

* * *

The street department and the state highway department are busy fixing up streets and roads that were damaged by the heavy winter. In case you think that New Castle was the only town bothered with this trouble, just take time to travel a few miles to another town and see if the same and maybe worse condition exists. It won't be long until all the streets and roads will be in first class condition and it won't be long until the traffic will be started to the World's Fair in New York . . . a lot of people who missed the fair last year are planning on making the trip this summer . . . and a few will make the trip over again . . . some folks have no consideration for their feet at all.

One month from tomorrow Cascade Park will be officially opened. You will find the park in much better shape this year than it has been for many a year. Buildings have been removed and rebuilt . . . the natural beauty of the park is coming back to life . . . and you will have to go many miles before you find a more beautiful spot. Take a little jaunt out and look things over.

* * *

And with spring comes June Graduation . . . the senior class will present their play on Friday evening of this week. They have chosen the play "You Can't Take It With You" . . . it has the zip that it takes to make a Senior Play a success . . . the class would appreciate your support.

Stock Market Moves Higher

Few Issues Up From 1 To 2 Points From Close Of Saturday

By LESLIE GOULD
(International News Service Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, April 29.—The stock market moved quietly higher today. A few issues were up 1 to 2 points, but the majority of gains were limited to fractions. Trading was extremely slow.

American - Hawaiian Steamship stood out with a climb of 2 points to a new 1940 peak, while Atlantic Gulf & West Indies common and preferred each advanced about a point. N. Y., Shipbuilding and International Mercantile Marine, the latter being turnover in heavy volume, gained nearly as much.

International Paper common and preferred, the latter up about a point, also were in new high ground. Other paper stocks added fractions to Saturday's final quotations.

In the steels, Bethlehem ran up a point closely followed by U. S. Steel.

Chrysler advanced nearly a point and Westinghouse Electric almost 2. Elsewhere gains generally were of fractional proportions, including those in chemicals, mail orders, aviations, coppers and rails.

Oils lagged, as did communications and most of the rubbers.

New Pre-Marital Health Test Law To Be Discussed

Lawrence County physicians will informally discuss Pennsylvania's new pre-marital health test (which becomes mandatory under state law Friday, May 17) at their regular meeting in The Castleton Thursday evening, May 2, at 8:30 o'clock.

The doctors will receive a formal report on the matter from their own public relations committee, headed by Dr. John Woods, according to Dr. W. A. Womer, secretary of the society.

Every applicant for a marriage license in Pennsylvania on and after May 17 must obtain a medical examination, including a standard blood test for syphilis, from a duly licensed physician of Pennsylvania. The exam and blood test must be made within 30 days before the day a marriage license is issued.

Principal speaker at the Thursday night meeting will be Dr. R. R. Snowden, medical school professor at the University of Pittsburgh, whose subject will be "The Anemias."

Ford City Man Held Under Bail

Charge Of Solicitation To Commit Murder Is Made By State Officer

(International News Service)

KITTANNING, Pa., April 29.—Freed under $5,000 bond, a prominent Ford City undertaker-contractor today awaited grand jury action on a state police charge of solicitation to commit murder.

J. L. C. (Kirby) Welsh, 60, was named in an information filed by private Willard Schauer, of the Butler barracks of the State Motor police, which alleged that the Ford City man approached two other men and offered them $50 to do away with a Manorville resident.

Welsh was given a preliminary hearing Saturday and released under bond by Judge J. Frank Graff. Indications were that the case would be given to the Armstrong county grand jury during the week of June 3.

The alleged plot was uncovered by State police while they probed the unsolved slaying of Arthur V. Helm, 53, a Kittanning tool salesman. The two Ford City men were questioned by State police and "readily admitted" that Welsh had contacted them, according to District Attorney W. A. Ashe.

Schauer, in his complaint charged that Welsh had approached the Ford City men on Easter Sunday and had offered them $50 to kill a Manorville resident. The later, however, was never harmed, and the money was never paid, it was understood.

General Motors Has Best First Quarter Business

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 29.—General Motors Corp. first quarter profits totaled $67,028,461, or $1.50 on the common, against $53,177,928, or $1.18 per share, in the same 1938 quarter and the best since 1928, Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., chairman, reported today.

Net sales totaled $458,150,556, the best first quarter volume in the corporation's history.

"The trend of consumer buying of General Motors proudcts, adjusted for the seasonal characteristics, rose in January and February counter to the trend of general business but declined somewhat in March," Mr. Sloan reported. Overseas sales were 21.9 per cent less than in the first quarter of 1939, the reduction being more than accounted for by the decrease in passenger car sales. "Sales of trucks substantially increased compared with the corresponding period a year ago, a reflection of war necessity," Mr. Sloan declared.

The corporation's payrolls increased 17.2 per cent to $114,578,562 and average number of workers 4.9 per cent to 247,678 from a year ago. Average weekly earnings also increased, the average number of hours worked per week gaining 13 per cent to 37.4 hours while the average hourly earned rate remained the same.

Constitutionality Of Revised Guffey Coal Act Is Argued

Validity Of Act Assailed By Sunshine Anthracite Company Of Arkansas

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The supreme court today hears arguments on constitutionality of the revised Guffey act for regulation of the bituminous coal industry.

Validity of the act was assailed by the Sunshine Anthracite Coal Co., of Arkansas, which was classed as subject to the law despite its claim that its coal is anthracite.

New Deal officials welcome the test, hoping to get a decision from the court reversing the 5 to 4 decision by which the original Guffey act was thrown overboard.

The government, in its brief, pointed out that the high court did not rule on price-fixing provisions of the original act. Attorneys asserted, however, that the language used by the court in its opinion indicated a belief that congress has the power to impose price-fixing.

The chief basis of the government's claim of the right to regulate the industry is that the high court upheld constitutionality of AAA milk marketing provisions, under which Secretary of Agriculture Wallace regulates the milk industry.

Before hearing arguments, the court was to hold a decision period. Outstanding cases before the tribunal include the mid-west oil price-fixing case and the Apex case, involving the right of a corporation to collect damages resulting from a "sit down" strike.

Takes Pastorate Of People's Mission

William Gamble Is Honored By Members Of Gospel Tabernacle Saturday Night

William Gamble, who has taken up the pastorate of the People's Mission on Sampson street, was fittingly honored by 43 members, representing the teachers and officers of the Gospel Tabernacle, 210 Pearson street, at his home, 709 Cumberland avenue, Saturday evening. Mr. Gamble has been serving Pearson St. tabernacle as superintendent of the Sunday school.

Coming as a complete surprise to the honoree the group began assembling about 7:30 and kept coming throughout the evening.

The newly elected superintendent, Joseph Master, was chairman of the evening. Following the opening prayer by Rev. J. H. Boon, the Gibbons trio rendered a fitting number, dedicating it to the retiring leader. Following the singing of several group numbers, Mrs. Ruth Lutz gave a fine reading. Mrs. William Hanna, superintendent of the home department and Mrs. William Kennedy, superintendent of the Cradle Roll, both gave remarks concerning the growth of their departments, under the leadership of Mr. Gamble.

Miss Murl Smith, superintendent of the junior department, related the growth of the Sunday school during the six years the honored one was leader. Revealing that the enrollment of the Sunday school was well over the 500 mark, Miss Smith stated that several new classes had been formed during the past six years until at the present time, there are 25 classes. The Sunday school had to be divided to make room and a junior department was organized with separate officers elected to carry on the business of that department.

A trio of young men, including Andrew Sentgeorge, Joseph Jenkins and Paul Blews, rendered a trio number and Rev. J. H. Boon, pastor of the church, gave a glowing testimony of the work accomplished by Mr. Gamble. At the close he presented the past superintendent with a purse of money as evidence of the esteem in which he was held by the official members of the Sunday school gathered. Mr. Gamble responded by thanking the group for the co-operation they had extended him during his official capacity. Even though he would be unable to be as active as he has been in the church in the past, he promised to cooperate in any way possible.

The evening was climaxed by the serving of delicious refreshments by Mrs. William MacKenzie, Mrs. Chas. McIlrath, Mrs. Joseph Masters, Mrs. Ruth Lutz and Mrs. Clarence Allison.

Asserts Germany And Italy Partners In European War

(International News Service)

COLOGNE, April 29—A high ranking Nazi government official today proclaimed Italy and Germany as partners in the war against their "common enemies England-France."

In a nationally broadcast speech from the Kloeckner Motor Manufacturing plant at Cologne, Dr. Robert Ley, chief of the German labor front, declared:

"Italy is in the same position as Germany. Italy and Germany have common enemies in England and France.

"What is England's business in the Mediterranean? What are the English doing at Malta and at Gilbraltar?

"They have just as little to do there as in the Baltic. We are glad the Fuehrer is a personal friend of Premier Mussolini. That is the best guarantee that both nations shall stand together until they are victorious."

Turning to the Norwegian situation, the Nazi labor leader said:

"The Norwegian Fjords have become the graveyard of the British fleet. We cannot bear the idea of the British fleet trying to hang our bread-baskets higher....every German worker has more value than an English lord."

Love Able To Leave Hospital

Robert G. Love, of 408 North Jefferson street, who suffered a broken nose and cuts about the right eye, when his airplane fell as he was approaching the New Castle airport, April 19, was able to leave the Jameson Memorial hospital over the week end.

Love's plane was struck by a gust of wind as he was attempting to make a forced landing on the Hoye farm, and it went into a spin. Love and his companion, Donald Johnson of Naugatuck, Conn., miraculously escaped with minor injuries.

Lace Making Big Industry In State

More Than Half Of Lace Goods Made In U. S. Manufactured In Pennsylvania

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 29.—According to a recent survey made by the Pennsylvania commerce department's state planning board, Pennsylvania, long known for its coal, iron, cement, and smelted zinc, also leads the nation in the manufacture of lace goods.

The margin of this lead is impressive for more than one half of all lace goods manufactured in the United States, finds its origin in Pennsylvania. This is three times the amount manufactured by our nearest competitor, Rhode Island.

The most recent figures available show that the value of lace goods exceeds $14,500,000, and at present the industry employs more than 4,000 persons in Philadelphia, Luzerne, Lackawanna, Delaware, Lancaster and Carbon counties.

Recent building improvements also indicated that the industry intends to remain in the state. Construction of a finished plant by the owners of the Lackawanna county (Scranton) establishment, reported to be the largest plant of its type in the nation, lend credence to the belief.

The major portion of Pennsylvania's lace goods come from the Nottingham lace-curtain machines. Approximately 80 per cent of these machines are located in Pennsylvania, the industry being first established in Wilkes-Barre in 1886.
